THE REGULAR MEETING

Of Council Held Last Night
Was a Short One.

HUSTON ROAD IMPROVEMENT

Occupied a Greater Part of the Time—Reports of the Various Departments—The Finance Committee Report on the Salary Ordinance.

Council met in regular session last night, with all members present except Purinton and Kent.

The first business before council was the vehicle ordinance, and Messrs. Purinton and Challis, the committee appointed, reported it back for second reading, with the understanding that they would have amendments ready at the next meeting.

The resolution to relay sidewalks on Sixth street, from Jefferson to Monroe streets, was recommended for passage by the street committee, and was read for the second time, and then a resolution passed declaring it necessary to improve Jefferson street from Fifth to Sixth streets.

A resolution to improve Huston road or Bradshaw avenue, by grading and paving the same, was read for the third time, and the arguments began.

Challis—I think it would be well to see what the board of improvements do in regard to widening that street.

President Marshall called Owen to the chair and said: "This street has been in contention for years past, from time to time. It is still an impassable avenue through there. I hope the board of improvements will widen this, and am in favor of passing the ordinance as it is. We can only go as far as board of improvements will recommend. Our hands are tied. Fifteen feet wide is better than 15 feet deep.

Stewart—That place where it is only 15 feet wide has been a great drawback to improving the street. Go ahead and pave that street and that party will ask two or three times as much for his land. I move it be laid over until the board of improvements see whether they can purchase ground. This was seconded by Peake. Marshall—I would prefer to see it laid over than defeated. When we placed the board of improvements in, we tied our hands. I would be in favor of widening it. Let us vote that motion down, and go and see the board of improvements and get them to recommend widening it.

Challis—We did think $1,000 was too much to pay for the ground. It can be bought for the same price now. Mr. Morton told me he hadn't changed his price at all.

Peake—I think $1,000 is cheap enough for that ground.

Stewart—Here's a pretty mess for you. One part of that street is 15 feet, another 25 and one 40 feet. Here's your board of improvements for you. I would never vote for spending a cent of the city's money for a street in such a shape.

Horwell—Was it the board of improvements that put the street in that shape or some former council. I think the board of improvements is all right. It is only a beginning of the expense if you buy the Morton property.

Marshall—There has been no council for 15 years that has been able to agree on anything in regard to this street, even when there wasn't a board of improvements.

Stewart changed his motion so it would read, "laid over for two weeks," and it was adopted unanimously.

The resolution to improve Mulberry street, East End, was read for the third time and passed.

The finance committee recommended the passage of the salary ordinance with the following amendments: The salary of the mayor to be $1,000, instead of $1,200; Marshal $800, instead of $1,000; city solicitor $600, instead of $800. The ordinance was then placed on its second reading.

The wharf committee recommended that the East Liverpool and Charles Jutte coal companies be charged $25 a year, and keep and maintain their respective wharves in first class shape under the direction of the wharfmaster, and that the Enterprise Coal company and Broadway wharfboat pay $50 per year; all sand boats, rafts, etc., to be charged $1 a day, or $5 a month. There was some discussion over this, and it was laid over for two weeks.

Stewart said as sand boats were beginning to arrive for the new bridge, he thought council ought to pass the part relating to them. This was done, and Mr. Owen stated that the committee appointed to secure an attorney to help the solicitor in the Billingsley cases, would recommend the employing of J. H. Brookes. Mr. Clark stated that this would be entirely satisfactory to him, and the action of the committee was endorsed by council.

Then came the reports, the street commissioner stating that his work the past month was the same as usual.

The water works trustees' report shows a balance of $239.78 on hand. The mayor reported $65.30 collected, and the treasurer's report showed a balance in the general fund of $3,792.30; street, $2,249.58; wharf, $138.43; fire, $1,452.09; police, $486.94; light, $2,642.12; sinking, $6,724.34; interest, $3,972.63; sanitary, $552.61; bridge, $111.48. Clerk Hanley stated that the police fund would be empty after this pay.

Chief Adam reported four runs last month. The fire department had received the warm thanks from the parties that they had fought fire for, and a box of cigars.

The report of the claims committee was next, and Mr. Owen stated that the reason they did not O. K. the light bill was that the marshal didn't make a report as ordinance requires, and that they had decided not to pay any more bills of the company without the marshal's signature on it. The pay roll was then passed.

Owen moved that the city solicitor be instructed to hand in his account, itemized, to council at the next meeting, so that the city could pay up before the change took place.

Challis spoke of the fire apparatus for the north side, and the matter was left in the hands of the fire chief.

Stewart then read a letter from the Fort Wayne Electric corporation, furnishing estimates on an electric light plant. Mr. Stewart stated this was merely a preliminary report, and council adjourned after an unusually short session.

AMICABLY ADJUSTED.

The Trouble at the Dresden Pottery All Settled.

The trouble at the Dresden has been harmoniously settled. President McNicol, in a conference with the grievance committee for the clay shop, stated that it was not compulsory for the employees to pay for the use of electric lights if they did not wish to. All those from whom a deduction had been made in their wages last Saturday could have the amounts returned to them by applying at the office. Mr. McNicol stated that he thought that he was doing the employees a favor when he made it possible for them to have the use of the light at such a low figure. He had understood that other firms in the city were charging their employees for the use of the lights, and he thought that he was but following a precedent that had been established. Those who did not feel like paying for the use of the lights could return the globes to the office and no amount would be charged up to them.

TOWNSHIP TRUSTEES.

One Hospital Patient Discharged Yesterday.

The township trustees hospital in the Ferguson & Hill block will soon be empty, unless some new patients arrive. One patient was discharged yesterday and went to work this morning, and the other will be sent to her home in Jefferson county as soon as the weather permits her removal without danger. Word was received from Infirmary Director Roller this morning that he had arrived at the infirmary with Tommy Humphreys, and that they would endeavor to keep him there. It is to be hoped they will, although they will spoil a great deal of amusement for the youngsters of this city. It is astonishing to see the demands that some people make on the trustees, asking for not only the necessities of life but for many things that are considered luxuries by the most of people.

TWO DEATHS.

One is Caused by Consumption and the Other Diphtheria.

Jacob Vandine died at his home in West End this morning, after an illness lasting over one year, from that dread disease, consumption. Deceased was aged 21 years and was formerly employed at the glass works. The funeral will take place Friday afternoon from the residence of his father, William Vandine, West End, at 2 o'clock, and interment will be made at Spring Grove cemetery.

The three-year-old daughter of James Johnson, the expressman, died at her home on Basil avenue this morning, from an attack of diphtheria. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, Reverend Huffer, officiating. Interment will be made at Spring Grove cemetery.

NO DEAL YET.

The Proposition Made By Jutte & Co. Not Accepted.

The ferry boat deal is not closed yet. Captain Elwood Pusey, the present owner, was in consultation with Jutte & Company, of Pittsburg, the other day, endeavoring to come to a satisfactory agreement with them. The company firmly adhere to their original proposition of $9,000 for the purchase of the boat. Captain Pusey places a higher figure than that on the value of his property, and unless Jutte & Company increase their offer the indication of the consummation of a deal is very remote.

THE MUD

Is Very Annoying to Our Suburban Residents.

Residents of Avondale street are complaining bitterly about the condition of that thoroughfare, stating that the mud is now ankle deep, and that the prospects are that it will be a great deal deeper in a few days. Many of them are compelled to stay at home from the revival services on account of being unable to get down town in the evening, as it is an utter impossibility for ladies to travel the street after night, without being completely lost in the mud.

Councilman Peake is the author of the story that a farmer walked into his store in West End yesterday and asked for a hoe, stating that he wanted to plant potatoes on Lisbon road, as the mud was deep enough without any ploughing being done. Calcutta road is in a worse shape, if that be possible, than any of the other streets, and it now begins to look as though the city will have no outlet in a few weeks.

Could Not Endure the Treatment of a Brutal Husband.

A few weeks since a married couple moved from the hill district to the sacred precincts of Smoky Row. Since their advent there the head of the family has been subjected to more temptation than formerly. Lately he has come home in a drunken condition quite frequently. While in this condition it is his invariable custom to smash the furniture, and to vary the monotony of things, abuse his wife. She bore this treatment as long as possible, but the other day, being exasperated beyond all power of endurance by the brutal treatment that she received, she packed up a few belongings and quietly left the city to go to the home of her parents.

STATE CONVENTION.

Delegates and Alternates Elected at Columbus.

Special to NEWS REVIEW.

COLUMBUS, March 11.—At the state Republican convention today the platform was an arraignment of the Democratic party and its policy, and contained a strong declaration in favor of protection. Bushnell, Foraker, Grovesnor and Hanna were elected delegates at large and instructed to vote for William McKinley. The alternates at large are Doctor Lowes, of Dayton, Senator Fleischman, of Cincinnati, and ex-Senator Green, of Cleveland. I. T. Mack, of Sandusky and Albert Douglass, of Chillicothe, were nominated as electors at large, while Charles Kinney, of Scioto, was nominated for secretary of state.

COMMENCING TO REVIVE.

Shipments of Ware by Express, Freight and River.

The shipments of ware are increasing rapidly. At the freight depot this morning two extra hands were added to the regular force to handle the increased amount of traffic. A quantity of ware in baskets was shipped by express this morning, and the river packets took on a large number of crates last night, brim full of the product of this city. This perceptible increase in the pottery industry is encouraging, and it is confidently stated by many manufacturers that the spring trade will be very good.

TELEPHONES IN SALINEVILLE.

The Bell Company Will Construct a Line in That Town.

The Bell telephone company are nothing if not progressive. The latest move made by them in the establishment of an exchange office in Salineville. The town has been thoroughly canvassed and a large number of citizens expressed their intention of having the phones put in their place of business. W. A. Weaver, of this city, has been made the representative of the company in Salineville, and a force of men will commence the construction of the new line in a short time.

LISBON NEWS.

One Liverpool Saloonist Got a Salty Dose.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, March 11.—Mrs. Sarah Hamill was arraigned in court last evening on two indictments for selling liquor to minors, and plead guilty, and was fined $35 and costs in each case. The remaining five cases against her were nolleed, on her paying the costs. The case of S. L. Miller versus E. K. Miller was brought to court on an appeal. On the 20th of last month a judgment was given the plaintiff for $75 and costs in 'Squire Clager's court.

The case of Jesse Myers, of Homeworth, which was commenced yesterday afternoon, is still on and the closing arguments will not be made before the close of court today.

A suit for divorce was commenced by Mary E. Swearingen, of Wellsville, against her husband, Wilson Swearingen, whom she married in 1868, and by whom she had several children, one of which is a minor and for which she asks the custody. The grounds for action are wilful absence and failure to support her.

A marriage license was issued to George C. Morgan and Mary E. Jones, of East Liverpool.

Some person dropped a lighted stump of a cigar on some straw in a cellar window of A. V. Thompson's grocery store on Washington street to-day, and at noon the straw was discovered to be on fire. A few buckets of water sufficed to extinguish the blaze. During the excitement an alarm was sent in and the fire patrol wagon responded in double quick time.

A Theatrical Aspirant

A certain colored man, employed as cook at an uptown hotel, is the subject for many jokes from his friends. The man in question has theatrical aspirations, and annoys any one that comes within a mile of him by his melodious (?) voice, as he intends to join a minstrel company, and spends most of his time practicing on songs that were new five or six years ago.

The Noonday Meeting.

The meeting conducted by Reverend Schiverea at Burford's pottery today was well attended, and was listened to with great interest by the employees. The evangelist discoursed in his usual way, and the words which he spoke evidently created a lasting impression on the minds of his hearers.

Buried Today.

The funeral of John Woolmaker took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late residence, corner of Mulberry street and Church alley, Reverend Reinartz officiating. Deceased was a member of the Grand Army, and they were in attendance, as well as a large concourse of friends.

Funeral of Mrs. Toulon.

The funeral of Mrs. Patrick Toulon took place from her late residence in the West End yesterday morning. Services were conducted in St. Aloysius church by Rev. Father Smith. A large number of friends and relatives of the deceased accompanied the body to its last resting place.

Off the Track.

Street car No. 2, in charge of James Christie, jumped the track at the Sixth street switch this morning, and caused the transfer of passengers for over an hour. The car was turned sideways across the track and required considerable effort to place it on the rails.

Instituted a Branch Lodge.

C. J. Morris and T. P. Kilfole, of Cleveland, both deputies in a Catholic beneficial society, instituted a branch lodge here last night. The meeting was held in Bradshaw hall, and the new lodge was established and officers elected.

Danger of a Slide.

A big slip is threatened on the hill side near Lythe's pipe works, adjoining the street car track. A large slice of the bank has been cut away and indication of a slide that might cause much damage is apparent.

From the Second Ward.

B. H. Hodgson and Dr. W. T. Norris are announced as candidates for school board from the Second ward. Each are warmly in favor of reading the Bible in the public schools.

Is a Candidate.

Councilman E. J. Owens is a candidate for school director from the Fourth ward. He is in favor of reading the Bible in the public schools or in any other proper place.

A Test Examination.

The scholars of the Central school building were given a preliminary test examination today.

An Infant Died.

An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McNicol died, and was buried yesterday.

GOD AND THE RIGHT

Music One of the Grandly Inspiring Features.

ANOTHER IMMENSE AUDIENCE

Main Body and Galleries of the Rink Filled to Their Utmost Capacity—The Evangelist at His Best in Presenting the Gospel of Truth—Impressive After Services—Toronto Contingent Coming.

The choir opened with a number of appropriate selections of song, with Mrs. Ida Watkins at the piano and Mrs. Ted Brookes presiding at the organ. Weeden rendered as a solo, "All the Way to Calvary," Rev. Huffer, of the Christian church, reading the scripture lesson, and Brother Hodgson leading in prayer.

Schiverea arrived at a few minutes before eight o'clock, and would not be satisfied with the singing until he had the entire assembly joining in on the chorus of one of his favorites, "let us hear you tell it over once again," and then the evangelist addressed a throne of grace with fervid, earnest eloquence.

The pastor of the A. M. E. church, of East Liverpool, Rev. B. M. Carson, made a strong, eloquent, tender and touching appeal that God would, for Christ's sake, save the men and women of East Liverpool and vicinity.

Announcement was then made that a meeting would be held at Burford's pottery at 12:30 today, with an address by the evangelist and singing by Weeden. An earnest invitation was also extended to employees of the Dresden pottery to attend at Burford's.

Weeden sang a plaintive, pathetic selection, listened to with rapt attention by the audience, evidently accomplishing good, lasting good, fastening the thoughts of men and women on the memory of loved ones gone to God. Surely, as Schiverea said, at the commencement of the song, God speaks in song. Young Weeden should use his power for the Master who has given him such a blessing. Following is a synopsis of the evangelist's address:

"My subject can be found in Hebrews, second chapter and third verse: 'How shall ye escape if ye neglect so great salvation?' This demands our immediate, earnest attention. What makes this sacrifice so great, men? On account of the awful sacrifice—the last drop of blood of the Lord Jesus Christ, the son of God. Nothing else, in heaven or upon earth, could answer the demand. The law states that there is no remission of sins, save through the shedding of blood. Christ died upon the cursed tree, and the plan of redemption was completed. There was silence in heaven for one half hour! Why? What caused this silence? Let me tell you. Because God saw the awful condition of the human family under the curse of a broken law. Man's extremity is God's opportunity. Among the hosts of men on earth, God could find no deliverer. Then the heavens were scanned, and no angel or archangel was found worthy for God's great plan. God then caused silence in heaven. He was going to do an awful, a terrible thing; to take his son off the throne, place him on earth, clothed in earthly garments, in order to redeem fallen man from the curse. Think of it, men. Jesus, the son of the living God, clothed in our poor humanity and doomed to die upon the cursed tree, for our redemption.

"A wealthy man came to me, while riding on the Grand Trunk railroad, and said: 'Mr. Schiverea, I would gladly write out a check for the sum of $10,000, if I could but have the same salvation as that of my dear old father and mother. I have just paid them a visit, and the older they grow, the happier they become.' I said to him: 'You can't purchase the salvation given your parents, sir. No, not for a billion dollars. It costs more than that; immeasurably more; it cost the blood of the son of God. And yet you can have this glorious salvation, this salvation of your dear father and mother, without money and without price.' What do you think he said: 'That's just what I hate to do, Schiverea. I hate to humiliate myself. My heart don't want to do it. I hate to be under such obligations to God.' Oh, men, such action is awful. I told him he could not have God's pardon on any other terms than the merciful plan of salvation, through the blessed Jesus.

"An infidel said to me: 'Will your God of infinite love and mercy permit a soul to go down into hell?' I made reply: 'He certainly will. He who spared not his own son, will certainly not spare the rebellious soul which rejects the great atonement.'

"The moment you forsake your sins and accept Christ, your sins fly

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 11.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
Ohio.

AND OUR OWN Foraker is solid as a rock for McKinley.

We rise to remark that Mr. McKinley is to be our next president.

GEMS? There is a rumor that some have been read in the Fourth street school building for some time past. Will some member of the board inquire into the matter?

SUPERINTENDENT SANOR's belief that certain vital matters should be left to himself for final settlement, received rather a rude awakening at member Taylor's hands.

THOSE "REGULATIONS."

The daily papers of East Liverpool made the people acquainted with the fact that the "recess" system has not been in vogue in our public schools; that scholars were not permitted privileges which came nature demanded; that punishment was meted out to scholars for asking and obtaining permission to do that which no humane man or woman should have debarred them from, and that petitions of parents who objected to this tyranny, were treated with contempt by would-be dictators. The "REGULATIONS" have been cast aside by an intelligent and humane board of education. The recess system has been re-established. The punishments have been abolished. The one man power has been relegated to oblivion. Of a truth, great is the power of press and people.

AN INTRICATE PUZZLE.

Mrs. Whitehead is puzzled about the actual standing of the school board respecting the reading of the Bible in the schools. No wonder. Their action has puzzled and is puzzling many clear headed men in this city. One prominent member says the "book" has not been "banished." Read this, the expression of a bright little scholar, a little girl who visited the News Review office: "Teacher did read the Bible; the Lord's prayer also, and prayed every morning. But she has quit, or she would be discharged, like Miss Little and Miss Jessop." And the other day the same little scholar, accompanied by two bright-faced companions, entered this office and gleefully called out: "Teacher read and prayed again this morning, and the teachers in two other rooms did the same—the rooms where these little girls attend." Surely, Mrs. Whitehead, you have a right to be puzzled.

CLEAN POLITICS.

Said a prominent citizen to the writer yesterday: "Clean politics are very much to be desired in East Liverpool. Petty politicians become very indignant when press or public intimate that everything in this line is not conducted on an absolutely fair and just plan; and yet I know of a transaction in this very city. In my own ward, that was very far removed from clean work, and if pressed closely, I can bring absolute proof of the shady transaction, and can place a witness on the stand who would make some astute and cunning local politicians very uneasy, and might cause them very serious trouble. You ask me why, as a good citizen, knowing of this bad work, I did not make an exposure? Simply because of the annoyance and discomfort it would have placed in my pathway. It was my duty, as you truthfully say, but duty is sometimes a very unpleasant thing. The matter, however, is known to very many voters, and an attempt at its repetition will result in complete exposure." Voters of East Liverpool, ye who are interested in the purity of the ballot box, it behooves you to be up and doing. No honest man will cry out against precautions being taken against villainy and trickery at the primaries, and these precautions

SPRING SUITS.

ADVANCE STYLES IN MEN'S SUITS.

We want you to see the new styles. We want to show you the right clothes at the right prices.

No difference where you have been trading, come in and look at our tailor made garments. It can't do any harm, and you ought to see the clothing that so many people have been talking about.

We carry no sweat-shop-made clothing to make a hurrah sale of—$25 suits at $12.50, $20 suits at $10, etc., or new spring goods just received. The merchant might have been to East Broadway, or to some shirt makers, but from a legitimate manufacturer or a merchant of repute, no such prices can be had.

HUMBUGGING THE PEOPLE---FAKE SALES

Are all right to advertise, but a legitimate dealer won't do it. A great many customers like our store because it is headquarters for certain makes of Men's and Boys' Clothing, celebrated for style and quality all over the land. These are the same goods kept by leading stores in the large cities, and nowhere are they sold lower than here. Whatever the price you want to pay, you will find here honest value, style, fit and satisfaction for your money. We do the very best we can by every customer who comes into the store, and are always glad to show our goods and compare our prices.

Parents, it is a treat to see our novelties in Children's Suits. Entirely new styles; all-wool goods $1.23, $1.98, $2.48, $2.98.

JOSEPH BROS.

will most assuredly be taken, and will be looked after by men who cannot be hoodwinked. Only a few days since, a well known politician walked into the News Review office and said: "You never said a truer thing than when you announced, in your editorial columns, that dirty politics had been indulged in at this point. It was tried on me, and I faced the bluffers who were trying it on, and forced them to accord me my rights." Turn on the light.

TRIAL OF DR. JAMESON.

The Raiders Severely Arraigned—Adjourned For a Week.

LONDON, March 11.—There was a large and pronouncedly jingo crowd in and about Bow street police court at the formal arraignment of Dr. Leander S. Jameson and his companions in the Transvaal raid, charged with violating the foreign enlistment act, passed in 1870, "to regulate the conduct of her majesty's subjects during the existence of hostilities between foreign states with which her majesty is at peace."

Sir John Bridge, the chief magistrate, presided. Sir Richard Webster opened for the crown. He dwelt in forcible language upon the gravity of the charges against the prisoners, contending that the South African republic was a friendly state within the meaning of the foreign enlistment act.

The first witness called was Sergeant Hay, of the Bechuanaaland police. He testified to the mustering of the troops at Mafeking and to the endeavors of Dr. Jameson and Col. Grey to induce him and a few of his comrades to join the body of men being equipped for the march towards Johannesburg.

Corporal Smith of the Bechuanaaland police, stated that Dr. Jameson made a speech to the troops at Pitsanipitogo on Dec. 29, and read them a letter signed by Messrs. Hammond, Farrer, Phillips and Leonard of the Johannesburg reform committee, requesting assistance upon behalf of the people of Johannesburg, who, it was claimed, were in danger from the threatened attitude of the Boers. According to Corporal Smith, Dr. Jameson told the troops that he did not believe a shot would be fired. Later ammunition and rations were served out and the troops started on their march across the frontier of the Transvaal.

After the formal evidence had been submitted, the examination was adjourned for the week.

No Hope For Mrs. Maybrick.

LONDON, March 11.—Inquiries made at the United States embassy confirm the report that the secretary of state for the home department, Sir Matthew White Ridley, has refused to reopen the case of Mrs. Florence Maybrick, the American sentenced to imprisonment for life, after having been convicted of poisoning her husband.

Sutro to Be Sued.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—The local authorities are awaiting instructions from Washington before entering proceedings against Mayor Sutro for sending defamatory matter through the mails. The envelopes addressed to congressmen and bearing the inscription: "Collis P. Huntington would not steal a red hot stove," are to be made the basis of the complaint.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

A Number of Bills Are Passed by Both Branches.

COLUMBUS, March 11.—A bill has passed the house which is a substitute for the house bill, providing that children living two and a half miles from a school house can attend a village school adjoining.

Other bills passed in the house were: Senate bill authorizing the improving of public roads of townships and streets of villages. Giving the trustees of townships containing cities of the third and fourth grade the right to bury bodies within 100 feet of a dwelling house. Mr. Goodale's bill levying an excise tax was made a special order for 10:15 next Tuesday.

Bills were introduced in the senate as follows: Mr. Plummer, establishing a legal one-half holiday for every Saturday from the hour of 12 o'clock noon to 12 o'clock midnight.

Mr. Pleumer, providing for the authorizing of a fund to be known as the undivided profit fund by building and loan associations. The house bill by Mr. Robinson passed the senate, to authorize certain colleges to borrow a sum not exceeding $15,000 to pay existing indebtedness and to issue bonds therefor.

EFFECTS OF RECIPROCITY.

A Public Hearing to Be Held—Information Asked For.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The subcommittee of the committee of ways and means, having under consideration several bills relating to reciprocity and commercial treaties, will have a series of public hearings at the capitol in Washington, commencing Monday, March 16, and closing Saturday, March 21, to which all persons interested in those subjects are invited to appear.

The committee desires practical information concerning the operations of the reciprocity treaties that were negotiated by the last administration, and the effect of their appeal; also concerning the obstacles in the tariff or customs regulations of foreign countries tending to retard the extension of our export trade. The inquiry will be confined to those two points. The committee has mailed about 5,000 circulars of inquiry to merchants and manufacturers.

Reforms Linger in New York.

NEW YORK, March 11.—The Raines bill has passed the legislature. According to Senator Raines the effects of the bill will be to prevent corruption in excise boards, to stamp out low gin shops, and to greatly reduce Sunday selling and other violations of law by saloon-keepers. He holds that the increase in the license fee will prevent loss of revenue.

American Imprisoned in Cuba.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Acting Secretary of State Rockhill has cabled Consul General Williams at Havana to investigate and report as soon as possible on the case of Walter Grant Dygart, who, it is said, is a citizen of Illinois and confined in prison at Guines by the Spanish authorities.

To Admit New Mexico.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The subcommittee of the senate committee, appointed to consider the bill for the admission of New Mexico, has decided unanimously to report to the full committee in favor of the passage of the bill.

Lived With a Dead Body.

MARTINSBURG, Mo., March 11.—The body of Pat Cronan, an old Irish farmer, has been found in his bed in an advanced state of decomposition. His insane wife had lived for days in the house with the body, but has since died.

The Monadnock on Her Trial Trip.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—The coast defense vessel Monadnock, the keel of which was laid at Mare Island navy yard, has made her first appearance in San Francisco. She was on her trial run.

Against the Anti-Option Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—A subcommittee of the house committee on agriculture has decided to recommend to the committee that the anti-option bill be reported adversely.

A Shortage of $34,000.

CONCORD, N. H., March 11.—In report to the city government, City Auditor Lyford said that ex-Tax Collector Foster's shortage for 1894 and 1895 would amount to a sum over $34,000.

Rhode Island For Reed.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 11.—The Republican state convention renominated the present state officers. Sentiment for Reed prevailed.

DE LOME IS REBUKED.

Lodge and Teller Score the Spanish Minister.

HIS DISMISSAL IS ADVOCATED

A Jeering Crowd Followed the Remains. He Had Planned the Wholesale Murder of His Neighbors—His Fight to Prevent Arrest.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Two new phases of the Cuban subject have made their appearance in the senate and each afforded a debate which aroused senators and spectators to a high stage of interest and excitement.

Mr. Lodge (Mass.) arose to a question of personal privilege and in vigorous words rebuked the Spanish minister, Senor Dupuy de Lome, for his recent criticisms of senators. Senator Teller added his opinion that a repetition of the minister's action should be followed by his dismissal. Senators Gray and Hale maintained that senatorial privilege and prerogative should not be strained to close the mouth of the Spanish minister. Mr. Lodge did not press for any definite action.

The incident was hardly closed when the subject came up in another form. Mr. Hoar had asked that his resolution, postponing the entire Cuban subject until April 6, go over until today. This aroused Mr. Sherman to an energetic and feeling protest. He declared that Mr. Hoar's resolution was a reflection on the committee on foreign relations and was an effort to shelve the Cuban resolutions after weeks of discussion. The two venerable senators, Sherman and Hoar, engaged in a vigorous colloquy.

Mr. Morgan and other senators were drawn into the discussion and for half an hour it raged, sometimes with deep earnestness, but more often with amusement caused by the white-haired participants. Mr. Sherman finally withdrew his objection and Mr. Hoar's resolution went over until today, but not before Mr. Hoar had made a brief but telling speech against what he termed the policy of congress in foreign questions. The latter part of the day was given to a continuance of Mr. Turpie's speech in opposition to the claim of Mr. Dupont.

BUTCHERED BY SPANIARDS.

General Weyler's Promises of Fair Trials Not Carried Out.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Fidel Pierra, in charge of the Cuban news bureau in this city, has given out the following statement: From a letter dated Santiago de Cuba Feb. 28, the following paragraphs are copied: "Although General Weyler says that nobody will be punished in any way unless he is convicted of some crime, assassination proceeds on a larger scale. In order that you may judge to what extent it is carried on, I will give you a few instances:

"On the morning of the 14th inst., in the ward of Maravilla, in the town of Guantanamo, 13 persons were found murdered. "Numerous murders by Spaniards in other districts are reported, nearly all substantiated by the names. At least 30 people are known to have been butchered altogether, including the 13 at Maravilla."

POLITICS MUCH TO BLAME.

The Cause of the Anti-American Riots at Barcelona.

BARCELONA, March 11.—Careful investigation shows conclusively that Spanish politics have had a big hand in the Barcelona disturbances. The Republicans are heartily opposed to the present government and are making demonstrations here against the United States with the direct purpose of causing its downfall.

A serious anti-American riot has occurred at Salamanca. The students, as usual, were the leaders of the disturbance. They carried Spanish and American flags and burned the latter.

A dispatch from Barcelona says that the merchants of that city have agreed not to sell American products in the event of President Cleveland approving of Cuban belligerency resolutions of congress. They have also opened a subscription toward a fund which is to be devoted to the purchase of warships.

Raised the Spanish Flag.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., March 11.—A Spanish flag was hanging in front of Eastman college in this city with the words "Synonymous of Butchery" painted in large letters across it. The police heard of it and an officer was sent to pull the flag down. A crowd of students jeered the officer when he took the flag to police headquarters. Eastman college has about 300 students, including about a dozen Cubans.

MCKINLEY THE SLOGAN.

The Major's Name Sets the Convention Wild.

FORAKER GAVE THE KEYNOTE.

In a Roaring Speech He Pledges Ohio's Support to the Ex-Governor For the Presidential Nomination—The Committee Named—Reconvened Today.

COLUMBUS, March 11.—The Republican state convention reconvened at 10 o'clock this morning, with Senator-elect Foraker in the chair.

When the convention opened late yesterday afternoon, Chairman McKim said the Ohio Republicans last year promised to make Bushnell, governor; Foraker, senator, and support McKinley for president, and they were here to carry out the third part of the agreement.

Among the Ohio congressmen and other prominent Republicans on the stage sat ex-Secretary of the Treasury Charles Foster. Governor Bushnell occupied one of the boxes.

Mr. Foraker, in his speech, said:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention.

I sincerely thank the state central committee for the honor of temporarily presiding over this convention, and I most heartily thank you, gentlemen of the convention, for your kind and enthusiastic greeting. I am assured of your proper attention. Ordinarily, as I understand it, it is thought to be the chief duty of office of the temporary chairman of a convention like this to discuss the political questions and define party positions. Ordinarily I should make that kind of an address on such an occasion as this. It is possible that you are expecting some such remarks as these. If so, you will be disappointed, for in my judgment that kind of address is not necessary under the circumstances attending us here today. It is not necessary because everybody knows that no matter what questions may be discussed in the coming campaign the one great, towering, supreme issue in the contest of '06, will be whether for the next four years this country shall be ruled by Democracy or by Republicanism. [Applause.] And everybody knows in advance what the verdict will be. [Applause.] For even our Democrats, the friends understand and can see that the sweeping victories of last year are to be followed by still greater and grander triumphs this year. [Applause.] The Republican party was never as strong, never so powerful, never so popular, never so entrenched in the hearts and affections of the American people as it is today, and so far, at least, as Ohio is concerned, never so united and harmonious as at this very hour. [Great applause.] We have no differences of opinion with respect to national questions or policies, and we have no factional dissensions to weaken our strength or divert our attention from the common enemy. [Applause.]

Therefore, it is that while we are here for the purpose of nominating a ticket and declaring a new theory in the United States, we come also to the discharge of a higher and more commanding duty. It has already been indicated by our chairman. The Zanesville convention declared that the Republicans of Ohio would this year untiedly and enthusiastically support the candidacy of Governor McKinley. [Applause.] The time has come to redeem that pledge, and we are here to do it. In every district and county convention so far held this year in this state, he has already been endorsed. We assemble now as the representatives of the Republicans of the whole state for the purpose of doing the same thing. [Applause.] We owe it to ourselves as well as to him to do it with spirit, vigor, and higher aim, more in a manner, in short, as will signify to the whole nation that he has now, and will have at the St. Louis convention, the united, hearty, cordial, enthusiastic, unqualified support of the Republicans of Ohio.

It is due, however, to the Republicans of Ohio and especially to Governor McKinley himself that it should be said here and now, that our preference for him is not conceived in any spirit of antagonism or hostility to any other man whose name is mentioned in connection with that high honor. [Applause.] The Republicans of Ohio do not lack appreciation for Thomas B. Reed, or Levi P. Morton, or William B. Allison, or Matthew Stanley Quay, or any of the great leaders who have been mentioned in connection with that honor. On the contrary we admire and love them all, and if the St. Louis convention should appoint us and give its vote to one of them, we here and now pledge our support to the electoral vote of Ohio to the greatest majority ever given in the history of the state. It is not that we "love Caesar less but Rome more." [Great applause.]

William McKinley is our own. He lives here in Ohio and always has lived in our midst. [Applause.] He is our friend, our neighbor, our fellow citizen, our fellow Republican. Shoulder to shoulder with him we have been in the battles of Republicanism in this state for a generation. We know him and he knows us. We know his life, his character, his public services and his fitness for the place for which he has been named.

He has been our senior comrade, our representative in congress, our governor. By all these tokens, we here today present him to the Republicans of the other states of the Union as our choice and ask them to make him theirs. [Great applause.] In this connection it should be remembered that he is identified with all that is good and great and grand and glorious in the history of Republicanism. [Applause.] When but a mere boy, answering his country's call, he shouldered his musket and marched away under the flag to the gallant and heroic at the front on the battlefields of the republic. [Tremendous applause.]

Returning and entering Congress he was soon there distinguished for his eloquence of speech, his fidelity to duty, his conservative judgment and his ever patriotic and conscientious regard for the rights of the people. In 1890 found him at the head of the ways and means committee and leader of the house. In that position he felt it his lot to frame and secure the enactment of the McKinley law.

[Applause.] That measure has made his name familiar in all the world and has made him exceedingly unpopular in almost all the world outside of the United States. [Great applause.] But it has correspondingly endeared him to his countrymen. Time has vindicated his labor. The last three years have been years of trial. They have been years of Democratic rule; they have been years of education for the American people in the school of practical experience. As a result, the American people know a great deal more about the tariff now than they did in 1892. [Applause.] Every business man has found out that no matter what kind of business he may be engaged in, the tariff has a close direct relation to him and the wageworker has learned that his prosperity depends on the maintenance of a protective tariff policy. As a result, in every section, in every state, in every country, in every municipality, in every mill and mine, and furnace, and forge and workshop, everywhere throughout all this broad land, where capital is invested or labor is employed, William McKinley is the ideal American statesman, the ideal American leader and the veritable American idol. [Great applause and cheers.] No man ever in public life in this country enjoyed such universal popularity as is his. [Applause.] No man in this country in public life ever commanded, as he now commands, the affections of the great mass of the voters of this country. Blameless in private life, as he has been useful and illustrious in public life, his name in our judgment will inspire more confidence, excite more enthusiasm and give greater guaranty of success than any other name that can be inscribed on the Republican banner. [Great applause.] As the candidate of the Republican party, he will command the support of all classes and shades of Republicans, and at the same time command also the help of tens of thousands of patriotic Democrats in every state of the Union. [Great applause.] All who believe in America, all who believe in Americanism, all who believe in promoting and advancing the interests of America at home and abroad will rally to his support and help him to plant our banner in triumph on the citadel of the nation's policy. His administration will be a fit rounding out of the glorious achievements of the nineteenth century and constitute a bright and inspiring chapter with which to commence the record of the second era of Republican rule. [Applause.] Under his administration there will be no more deficits, no more bond issues in times of peace, no more bond syndicates, no more trouble about the national credit, no more national emergency, no more national about persons for the men who saved the Union (cheers and applause), and no hesitation, whatever, such as we now see in the White House in demanding and securing for the United States the right of place and consideration among the nations of the earth. Called to that office, he will fill it without obligation to any influence or power except that which emanates from the people whom he will be called to govern, and that belief upon which has been founded and run his whole career that this government is of the people, by the people and for the people. [Great applause.]

Other speakers declaring for him. Ohio cannot lead the column; it is already on the march. [Cheers.] All we can do is to join the procession. [Cheers.] We will not hesitate longer to take action in that respect. Governor, Judge A. C. Thompson and Hon. C. L. Kurtz were appointed as the committee that sent the following telegram to the president of the Republican convention at Wichita, Kan.:

The Republicans of Ohio, in their annual convention assembled, send greeting to the gallant Republicans of Kansas and assure them of the distinguished appreciation of the Ohio Republicans of the earnest support given to Ohio's great leader by the time tried Republicans of Kansas. Ohio will join Kansas at St. Louis and in November next will celebrate the victory for McKinley, protection and prosperity.

The following state committee was selected:

First district, Vivian J. Gagin, Hamilton; Second, Peter Durr, Hamilton; Third, John E. Feight, Montgomery; Fourth, W. L. Parmenter, Allen; Fifth, C. H. Marshall, Williams; Sixth, Dr. A. E. Arelart, Brown; Seventh, C. B. Schuck, Pickaway; Eighth, H. C. Brown, Hancock; Ninth, Leonard P. Harris, Lucas; Tenth, C. E. Hard, Scioto; Eleventh, W. W. Merrick, Meigs; Twelfth, T. J. Pickering, Fairfield; Thirteenth, Thomas D. Dewey, Sandusky; Fourteenth, W. W. Skiles, Richland; Fifteenth, H. E. Rose, Washington; Sixteenth, W. M. Miller, Jefferson; Seventeenth, C. B. McCoy, Coshocton; Eighteenth, W. C. Kirick, Stark; Nineteenth, B. E. Perry, Jr., Ashland; Twentieth, James Caldwell, Cuyahoga; Twenty-first, Hugh J. Buckley, Cuyahoga.

The usual committees for the convention work were appointed, the one on resolutions being as follows:

First district, Howard Ferris, Hamilton; second, Max Berghelm, Hamilton; Third, J. T. Sutphen, Butler; fourth, John T. Dellinger, Auglaize; fifth, H. H. Phillips, Paulding; sixth, H. E. Rose, Washington; seventh, Hon. G. N. Wilson, Madison; eighth, Hon. S. T. Hugh, Hardin; ninth, N. H. A. Reed, Lucas; tenth, Hon. L. J. Fenton, Adams; eleventh, Byron Lutz, Ross; twelfth, George K. Nass, Franklin; thirteenth, Cyrus Scott, Sandusky; fourteenth, Hon. J. T. Hasick, Lorain; fifteenth, H. C. Van Voorhis, Muskingum; sixteenth, Hon. J. J. Gill, Jefferson; seventeenth, M. L. Myser, Wayne; eighteenth, O. P. Sparr, Portage; nineteenth, J. K. Durbin, Medina; twentieth, Henry Vail, Cuyahoga.

The following have been decided on for alternates-at-large: Dr. J. E. Lowes, Senator John P. Green, colored, Senator Charles Fleischman, Congressman John N. Taylor. Electors-at-large: E. F. Mark and Albert Douglas. A state was also agreed upon for the state ticket, including General A. T. Wykoff for secretary of state against Doty and Kinney, who were making a close race. Williams for supreme judge, Blackburn for food commissioner and Stillwell for member of the board of public works are also slated.

The planks in the platform on the tariff and finance were adopted as written by McKinley and expressed his views on protection and bimetallism. The currency resolution is the same as in the national platform of 1892. The resolution endorsing McKinley for president is as strong as it could be made.

The embarrassment on certain temperance state legislation was covered in a general endorsement of the present legislature, which defeated radical measures and increased the liquor tax. There is nothing specially new in the declaration, but the preamble is a caustic indictment of President Cleveland's administration.

In the contest for chairman of the state committee, H. P. Crouse of Findlay, an appointee of McKinley, was elected over Vivian J. Fagen of Cincinnati, by a vote of 12 to 6.

Kurtz is elected for national committeeman. Besides the telegram pledging the support of Kansas, one has come from the McKinley Business Men's club of Chicago, saying that 90 per cent of Illinois Republicans are for McKinley and the state delegation will be nearly solid for him.

GEN. BOOTH'S SORROW.

His Heart Torn by Ballington Booth's Action.

STILL HOPES TO RECLAIM HIM.

Has Sent a Cablegram Asking His Son to Come to London That He May Pray With Him—Don't Fear Disruption of the Salvation Army.

LONDON, March 11.—General Booth, of the Salvation Army, has cabled a manifesto to the headquarters of the Salvation Army in New York.

Bramwell Booth also has a manifesto in the War Cry, in which he says that the "Fidelity of the American troops is unshaken," and warns the army against the "Misrepresentations of the anti-

English American press." He also says that the general's heart is "Torn and sorely wounded, but he is determined to carry on the government without respect to persons."

A reporter asked General Booth for an expression of his opinion on the trouble in the Salvation Army in the United States.

The general replied: "Ballington's action is inexplicable and is a heart-breaking blow to me. I still hope that the differences may be smoothed over, and I have cabled to Ballington the assurance that it was still not too late for forgiveness and begging him to come to England that I might pray with him. He has, however, not answered."

General Booth was asked what effect he thought Ballington Booth's new movement would have on the Salvation Army. He replied: "I do not think the movement will affect the army, which I hope will unitedly pursue its work on the original lines."

AN EXCITING CONVENTION.

Two Organizations at One Meeting in Georgia Ended in a Row.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., March 11.—The Republicans of the Ninth congressional district have had an exciting time here. The two factions engaged in the fight, the whites on one side and the negroes with a sprinkling of whites on the other.

The convention ran with two chairmen, two secretaries and two committees on credentials. Two speakers were frequently on the floor at the same time and everything was in a state of confusion.

The convention finally broke up without expressing any preference for presidential candidate.

$200,000 Fire in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, March 11.—Fire in the sub-bellery of five-story warehouse and cellars of Milwaukee, Fletcher & Co., at 314 to 518 East Pearl street, destroyed the entire front part of the structure with its contents, but the fire was limited to that building except the Pearl Street Methodist church adjoining, which was damaged considerably. Total loss $200,000.

Mere Formal Vote For Senator.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 11.—The ballot for United States senator was a mere formality, on account of Weissinger's death. Representative Adams voted for Boyle; Representative Baird for Blackburn and Populist Peon for Pettit, while the rest of the members refrained from voting. No quorum having voted, there was no election.

Iowa Republican Convention.

DES MOINES, March 11.—The city is filling up with delegates. The Republican state convention will meet today to present William B. Allison to the country for president. The four delegates-at-large will be Senator J. H. Gear, J. S. Clarkson, W. P. Hepburn and D. B. Henderson.

An Abandoned Woman Strangled.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—Another woman of the town has been strangled under circumstances identical with the two other murders that have taken place recently in the same locality.

State of the Gold Reserve.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The treasury has lost $164,600 in gold coin and $27,400 in bars, which leaves the true amount of the gold reserve, $126,265,016.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Trades council meets in special session tonight.

The man that had his leg broken while working on the bridge is improving rapidly.

Nancy Hanks was called to the turn table at Wellsville last night to repair a break in the trolley wire at that place.

Superintendent Morley is slowly improving and unless some unforeseen complications arise he will be able to be out in a few weeks.

Charles Seanor, of Pittsburg, formerly of this place, is in the city today on matters pertaining to recent litigation at this place.

The river has again commenced to fall. The Bedford passed up last night and the Ruth and Hudson went down. Traffic is increasing.

James Pickering, of Second street, will give a stag party to a number of friends tonight. The occasion is his sixteenth anniversary of her birthday.

A large number of friends called at the residence of Will Chamberlain, of Calcutta road, last night and spent a pleasant evening in dancing and merry making.

The big engine recently put in at the electric light plant is not in perfect working order, and an engineer from the firm that built it is here trying to remedy the difficulty.

Thomas Corcoran returned home from Pittsburg yesterday afternoon after spending two weeks at that place taking treatment for his health. He is much improved by his visit.

Charles Brown, checking clerk of the shipping department of the freight depot, is off duty with an attack of rheumatism. Freight Agent Thomas is acting as clerk temporarily now.

The Alvin Social club, of Market street, will hold a dance in the city hall at Wellsville tomorrow night. Two special street cars have been provided for Liverpool people to return home.

Notwithstanding that the time for nomination is so close at hand, the political pot is still simmering. It is expected that by the latter part of next week the excitement will have commenced.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Michael McKeever, a popular young presser of the Dresden pottery, to Miss Lizzie O'Donnell, of the West End. The event comes off on Easter Monday.

Staff Captain Parker, of Cleveland, will lead a special meeting in the Salvation Army hall tomorrow night at 8 p. m. Local officers will be commissioned, and the meeting will be one of great interest to all who attend.

Deputy Marshall Wyman is in receipt of a postal card from L. C. Miles, of Akron, stating that a large amount of jewelry was stolen from his residence on Sunday night last, and asking him to be on the lookout for the thieves.

Charles Green, formerly of this place but now of Lisbon, was in the city yesterday. He says that his mother, who was lying so dangerously ill with pneumonia at the residence of her father in Salineville, is considerably improved and will recover.

The young people's society, of the Second U. P. church held a very delightful musicale and literary entertainment at their church in East End last night. A very excellent program was rendered, and was highly appreciated by the large audience present.

The McKinley club will meet tomorrow night and receive the report of the committee that was appointed to investigate the charges made against McLaughlin. It is not known whether the latter person will be at the meeting or not to vindicate himself.

Evangelist Schiverea will address the employees of the Vodyre and the East Liverpool potteries tomorrow at the noon hour, in the warehouse of the latter pottery. The meeting to-day at Burford's was largely attended and much interest was manifested in the services.

The question is asked by many, "what has become of the proposed new railroad?" Matters pertaining to this subject have been apparently very quiet for some length of time. All the information that can be gotten from those interested in the project is the remark that everything is progressing nicely.

The ill-fated derrick of the bridge company met with another accident this morning. The big iron shovel swung against one of the cables holding the derrick in place and caused it to part in twain. No serious damage was caused. Engineer Laube arrived this morning, and is reviewing the progress of the work done.

The city candidates have started to work again, as they all expect to cover the city once more before the primary election, which is to be held on Saturday week. This is probably the first time in the history of politics in this city that candidates have put out as many cards as they have this year, and covered as much ground, and the end is not yet.

GOD AND THE RIGHT.

away from you, as far as the east is from the west. Will God forget your sins? Yes. Then what right have you to remember our sins against us. God puts them in the bottom of the sea; not on the top of the sea where they would float and stare us in the face; where the devil could gather them up and hurl them in our faces. They are put in the bottom of the sea, where the miserable devil will be drowned if he goes after them. I wish to God the miserable creature was drowned. Then, you say, 'you would be out of a job.' Drown him, drown him. I'll gladly lose my job. If the devil was drowned there'd be no more cursed saloons, no more libertines, no more ruined girls, no broken hearts of fathers and mothers.

"I look in the faces of the Grand Army men who sit all around and about me; in their scarred features and at their white hair; grand men, God bless them. I catch the sight of the badge in their button holes. They served this glorious nation; they redeemed the land, under the providence of God, from the curse and blight of human slavery. God bless them. And yet, men, there are thousands upon thousands of white slaves all over this grand land; thousands of men and women under the ban and curse of a worse slavery than ever existed in the southland—the awful slavery of sin; yes, a slavery worse than that inflicted upon the poor negro by the worst master that ever held slaves in the south. And the awful feature is that you are willing slaves—slaves to unholy passions, to rum drinking, to the saloon keeper, to dishonesty, to impurity, to licentiousness. Free yourselves, men, before it is eternally too late. God made me to be free. I'd die behind prison bars. God, for Jesus' sake, gave me my freedom, and bless his holy name, I'll remain free for ever.

"Today, passing down your streets, I heard glorious news. Blackburn, the noted gambler, who accepted his freedom from sin during the meetings at Toronto, was the first person to go forward and join the Presbyterian church on Sunday last. God bless and keep him.

"Oh, the terrible sin of neglect. 'How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?' You do not need to be a drunkard or vile and sinful, in order to reach perdition, to lose your soul. You simply need to neglect this great salvation; neglect it and you are lost. No sane man or woman will rise in their seats in this rink and say that they want to die in their sins; and yet, when asked to accept the mercy of the loving Savior of the world, they make reply: 'Not now; not ready; some other time.' God pity you. Those reasons are the devil's best tools, and have sent thousands of precious souls to hell. You have no other time; the future is not yours, never has been, never will be; you will be saved in the 'now' or never. God have mercy on you. 'How shall you escape if you neglect so great salvation?'

"A man left one of our meetings and became a raving maniac as he reached the hallway, and it took a dozen men to hold him as he raved and fought and cried out. The rumor was spread about the town that religious enthusiasm had caused him to become unbalanced. I went to see the physician in charge and he said to me: 'No, Schiverea, that is not true. The unfortunate man possessed an almost ungovernable temper, and a few years ago he murdered a man; your address went home to his conscience; he tried to evade it and left the meeting; he neglected salvation, and in the hallway, his remorse must have brought up his victim before him and he went crazy? Poor fellow. I was informed that he would tramp up and down his cell, crying out: 'Will I be saved, will I be saved?'

"A lady of my acquaintance was afflicted with cancer. She was urged by my wife to go to a prominent eastern specialist. She procrastinated, saying she would see to it again, that there was nothing serious. Finally she became worse and went east. To her dismay her physician told her it was too late. She offered him money to save her. 'Too late,' was his reply; 'nothing can save you; you neglected it too long.' My God, save these men and women of East Liverpool from neglecting the great salvation.

"Moody met a man who put off his soul's salvation to a more convenient time. Finally the unfortunate man's wife came to Moody to go see her husband. At that dying sinner's bedside the evangelist prayed and pleaded—but it was too late. He said to Moody: 'Go away, Moody, go away; it's too late; the loving God has deserted me, for I refused his offers of mercy and salvation; it's too late.' And Moody's heart almost broke as he sank on his knees by that dying man and heard him whisper, almost in the last agony: 'Oh God! oh God! the harvest is passed, the summer is ended and I am not saved.'

"You can't escape the judgment day. On that day you will look at the clock face and say to the angel in charge: 'How long am I to stay here; how long am I to be doomed?' And the answer will come: 'Forever, forever, forever.' You cry out in anguish: 'Is there no escape? When will our punishment end?' Oh, the horror of the answer, men; the horror of the reality, as the angel replies: 'Never, no, never!' But, thank God for his wonderful, loving kindness, you can escape now, through the blood of Jesus. Men, don't have the awful verdict against you of, 'Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels.' Not prepared for you, men; not prepared for you; you must force yourselves into hell—hell prepared for the devil and his angels.

"Oh, men and women of East Liverpool, come to Jesus tonight; come and escape; come and meet the Savior, who will welcome you, forgive you and save your immortal soul. Now is the day of salvation. God have mercy on you, is my prayer."

Weeden then rendered as a solo, "Looking this way," the congregation bowing heads in silent prayer, by request of Schiverea. The after meeting was a wonderful one, and incidents connected therewith show that great good is being accomplished in East Liverpool. By request we publish the song sang last night by Mr. Weeden, as follows:

Over the river faces I see,
Fair as the morning, looking for me,
Free from their sorrow, grief and despair,
Waiting and watching patiently there.

CHORUS.
Looking this way, yes, looking this way:
Loved ones are waiting, looking this way.
Fair as the morning, bright as the day,
Dear ones in glory looking this way.

Father and mother, safe in the vale,
Watch for the boatman, wait for the sail,
Bearing the loved ones over the tide
Into the harbor, near to their side.

Brother and sister, gone to that clime,
Wait for the others, coming sometime;
Safe with the angels, whiter than snow,
Watching for dear ones waiting below.

Sweet little darling, light of the home,
Looking for someone, beckoning come:
Bright as a sunbeam, pure as the dew,
Anxiously looking, mother, for you.

'Jesus, the Savior, bright morning star,
Looking for lost ones straying afar;
Hear the glad message, why will you roam?
Jesus is calling, "Sinner, come home."

Toronto is making arrangements to secure a special train and send up a strong contingent to hear the evangelist. They have asked that space be held for them in the rink.

The meeting at Burford's pottery today was a grandly interesting one. Good seed was sown. What will the harvest be?

Temptation of Money.
The Wilson Theatre company gave an excellent rendition of "Temptation of Money," at the Grand last night, to a good-sized audience. Tonight they will produce Bartley Campbell's famous melo-drama, "The White Slave." This is the company's strongest play, and will be produced in a metropolitan manner. Special scenery is carried for this production, and many new and pleasing specialties will be introduced.

"Perhaps you would not think so, out a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold. There are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one, get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Doctor Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough remedy. It will relieve the lungs, aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

OHIO VALLEY GAS CONSUMERS.

Consumers of the Ohio Valley Gas company lines are hereby notified that hereafter all bills must be paid on or before the 10th of each month, in advance. All consumers being in arrears at this time must settle on or before March 20 or supply will be discontinued.

I N. Weir.

I. N. Weir, the gentlemanly agent for Cram's Universal atlas, has taken his departure from East Liverpool, leaving many warm friends behind him. Mr. Harvey Davidson has been left in charge here as local agent, and will fill all orders.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Party Postponed.

The ladies of the Eastern Star intended to hold a leap year party tonight, but postponed the event indefinitely owing to the meetings in the rink.

THE MOON BOTHERED JULIET.

A Small Japanese Boy Held It and Would Not Go Away.

"While in Japan we went to Tokyo to play 'Romeo and Juliet,'" said Mrs. Potter recently. "We played from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock in the evening, as the manager demanded plays that would last all day, and when I told him that we had none of sufficient elasticity he replied that when it was all ended, we would start all over again. Well, we did. The manager was impressed with the necessity of having a moon, and that Juliet, as near as possible, should always be kept in the moonlight.

"Well, the balcony scene arrived, and there was no moon, but in the midst of Romeo's most passionate wooing, which, so far as the light on the stage was concerned, might have taken place at mid-day, the moon suddenly appeared. It was in the form of a lantern fixed on a bamboo pole and was swayed before my face by a little Jap who stood beneath the balcony in full view of the audience. The audience didn't seem to mind it in the least, but it made me very nervous, and every time Romeo would pour forth his soul I would ejaculate, 'Take away that moon.' But the boy was mindful of his instructions, that Juliet was always to be in the moonlight, and during the rest of the performance every time I came on the stage I was pursued by that awful moon. Nothing could induce the boy to desert, and so the moon held full sway."—Rochester Union and Advertiser.

TERRORIZED BY DEER

A MOB OF THEM CAPTURE A HOUSE AND SMASH THINGS.

A Sportsman's Account of the Annoyance Caused by Canadian Game Laws—If You Want Peace While Hunting In Canada Provide a Stuffed Gray Wolf.

"But I was going to tell you about the Canadian game laws being responsible for a nuisance," said the old sportsman. "The deer have the laws down fine, and though you might roam for days without seeing a sign of one of them in the shooting season they are as numerous and intrusive as mosquitoes at other times. The deer, you know, is a species of goat and will develop all a goat's toughness if he gets the idea that you aren't touch him. No small boy could be more insolent than the deer under those circumstances.

"After we finished our dinner the first evening at the cabin on Capen island last August we sat reading and smoking. A deer put his head in the door and ba-a-a-ed at us and winked his eyes and shook his tail in an eager way, as if he was asking for something. "What does he want?" we asked the guide.

"Oh, anything—old clothes or boots, a rubber shoe, tomato cans, anything like that for a change of diet."

"We gave him a pair of stockings and a chromo of Mary Anderson. He ate them and bounded away looking as pleased as if his uncle had left him a legacy. That made us laugh, and we hoped he would come back and let us have some more fun with him.

"He did come back before daylight next morning and brought six other deer with him. They ate up two white shirts and some underclothes that were hanging on the line behind the house and roused us up by knocking on the door with their horns. When the guide opened the door, the leading buck butted him into a corner. The other deer crowded in, and they took possession of the place. They upset the lamp, and as many as could get at it drank the kerosene. It made them cough, but didn't abate their curiosity in the least. They all put their noses in the stove and sniffed the ashes. That set them sneezing. The big buck, by turning his horns sideways, got his head into the biscuit barrel. He ate till he was rounded out like a football and then tried to go out to get a drink. But he had forgotten the combination, and the barrel staid right where it was. He gave a loud 'ba-a-a!' and that frightened him worse than anything, for his voice was baritone, and the barrel made it sound like double bass. Then he started in to back out slowly, shaking his head and keeping it low.

"I and Capen had kept quiet in our bunks. We knew the Canadian law, and we didn't want any trouble with the deer. But they had no idea of leaving us in peace. Two of them caught hold of the blanket that was covering Capen and began to devour it.

"Leggo," he shouted. But it was no use. They knew the ropes and were not going to be bluffed.

"Jumping mackerel!" shouted Capen, getting mad. 'I won't stand this any longer. Law or no law, these hoodlums have got to get out of my house.'

"He started to descend from his berth when a wicked looking doe made a jump from the other end of the room and helped him back again. I don't know what would have become of us if it had not been for the buck with the barrel. In backing out he tripped over a chair and fell down. The barrel jarred him, and he became panic stricken. He gave a terrific 'ba-a-a!' and hoisting the barrel up in the air began to charge about blindly. He fell down, turned somersaults, butted the other deer and tried to knock out the end of the cabin. The others were so surprised and frightened at his strange appearance and antics that they stood still and stared open mouthed till two or three of them were knocked galley west. These got up and away, full kickity smash, and the others woke up and slid the whole earth from under themselves at one jump.

"The three of us got up and jumped on the buck. We carried him outside and then let him go, and the way he smashed around through the landscape was a caution. We could trail him by the biscuits. He broke the bottom out of the barrel after awhile, but I guess he's wearing the rest of it yet.

"Of course we were in a great state of alarm for fear the deer would come back, but the guide said:

"That's all right. I'll fix those fellows."

"Luckily we had a fine gray wolf skin. This the guide stuffed and planted in a lifelike attitude on the shore where the deer came from the mainland. That afternoon the deer that turned our cabin inside out returned with 25 others. They were all on the broad smile, thinking of the picnic they were going to have till they caught sight of the stuffed wolf. That stopped them as dead as though they had run against a brick wall. They wheeled quick as a flash, and the way they put was a caution.

"After that we had no more trouble, and my advice to men who are going for sport into the wilds of Canada is that they take a stuffed gray wolf if they want to have peace and comfort."—New York Sun.

The Professional Woman.

Margaret Sangster, writing of women as office workers, says, "The daily wear and tear of nerves, temper and clothing of obligatory office attendance cannot be adequately stated or paid for in dollars and cents, and therefore a woman must love her profession over and above financial gains and pursue it for its own sake if she would find in it the rewards of a chosen career."

Consider how much more you often suffer from your anger and grief than from those very things for which you are angry and grieved.—Marcus Antoninus.

Occupied a Greater Part of the Time—Reports of the Various Departments—The Finance Committee Report on the Salary Ordinance.

Council met in regular session last night, with all members present except Purinton and Kent.

The first business before council was the vehicle ordinance, and Messrs. Purinton and Challis, the committee appointed, reported it back for second reading, with the understanding that they would have amendments ready at the next meeting.

The resolution to relay sidewalks on Sixth street, from Jefferson to Monroe streets, was recommended for passage by the street committee, and was read for the second time, and then a resolution passed declaring it necessary to improve Jefferson street from Fifth to Sixth streets.

A resolution to improve Huston road or Bradshaw avenue, by grading and paving the same, was read for the third time, and the arguments began.

Challis—I think it would be well to see what the board of improvements do in regard to widening that street.

President Marshall called Owen to the chair and said: "This street has been in contention for years past, from time to time. It is still an impassable avenue through there. I hope the board of improvements will widen this, and am in favor of passing the ordinance as it is. We can only go as far as board of improvements will recommend. Our hands are tied. Fifteen feet wide is better than 15 feet deep.

Stewart—That place where it is only 15 feet wide has been a great drawback to improving the street. Go ahead and pave that street and that party will ask two or three times as much for his land. I move it be laid over until the board of improvements see whether they can purchase ground. This was seconded by Peake.

Marshall—I would prefer to see it laid over than defeated. When we placed the board of improvements in, we tied our hands. I would be in favor of widening it. Let us vote that motion down, and go and see the board of improvements and get them to recommend widening it.

Challis—We did think $1,000 was too much to pay for the ground. It can be bought for the same price now. Mr. Morton told me he hadn't changed his price at all.

Peake—I think $1,000 is cheap enough for that ground.

Stewart—Here's a pretty mess for you. One part of that street is 15 feet, another 25 and one 40 feet. Here's your board of improvements for you. I would never vote for spending a cent of the city's money for a street in such a shape.

Horwell—Was it the board of improvements that put the street in that shape or some former council. I think the board of improvements is all right. It is only a beginning of the expense if you buy the Morton property.

Marshall—There has been no council for 15 years that has been able to agree on anything in regard to this street, even when there wasn't a board of improvements.

Stewart changed his motion so it would read, "laid over for two weeks," and it was adopted unanimously.

The resolution to improve Mulberry street, East End, was read for the third time and passed.

The finance committee recommended the passage of the salary ordinance with the following amendments: The salary of the mayor to be $1,000, instead of $1,200; Marshal $800, instead of $1,000; city solicitor $600, instead of $800. The ordinance was then placed on its second reading.

The wharf committee recommended that the East Liverpool and Charles Jutte coal companies be charged $25 a year, and keep and maintain their respective wharves in first class shape under the direction of the wharfmaster, and that the Enterprise Coal company and Broadway wharfbait pay $50 per year; all sand boats, rafts, etc., to be charged $1 a day, or $5 a month. There was some discussion over this, and it was laid over for two weeks.

Stewart said as sand boats were beginning to arrive for the new bridge, he thought council ought to pass the part relating to them. This was done, and Mr. Owen stated that the committee appointed to secure an attorney to help the solicitor in the Billingsley cases, would recommend the employing of J. H. Brookes. Mr. Clark stated that this would be entirely satisfactory to him, and the action of the committee was endorsed by council.

Then came the reports, the street commissioner stating that his work the past month was the same as usual.

The water works trustees' report shows a balance of $239.78 on hand. The mayor reported $65.30 collected, and the treasurer's report showed a balance in the general fund of $3,792.30; street, $2,249.58; wharf, $138.43; fire, $1,452.09; police, $186.94; light, $2,642.12; sinking, $6,724.34; interest, $3,972.63; sanitary, $552.61; bridge, $111.48. Clerk Hanley stated that the police fund would be empty after this pay.

Chief Adam reported four runs last month. The fire department had received the warm thanks from the parties that they had fought fire for, and a box of cigars.

The report of the claims committee was next, and Mr. Owen stated that the reason they did not O. K. the light bill was that the marshal didn't make a report as ordinance requires, and that they had decided not to pay any more bills of the company without the marshal's signature on it. The pay roll was then passed.

Owen moved that the city solicitor be instructed to hand in his account, itemized, to council at the next meeting, so that the city could pay up before the change took place.

Challis spoke of the fire apparatus for the north side, and the matter was left in the hands of the fire chief.

Stewart then read a letter from the Fort Wayne Electric corporation, furnishing estimates on an electric light plant. Mr. Stewart stated this was merely a preliminary report, and council adjourned after an unusually short session.

AMICABLY ADJUSTED.

The Trouble at the Dresden Pottery All Settled.

The trouble at the Dresden has been harmoniously settled. President McNicol, in a conference with the grievance committee for the clay shop, stated that it was not compulsory for the employees to pay for the use of electric lights if they did not wish to. All those from whom a deduction had been made in their wages last Saturday could have the amounts returned to them by applying at the office. Mr. McNicol stated that he thought that he was doing the employees a favor when he made it possible for them to have the use of the light at such a low figure. He had understood that other firms in the city were charging their employees for the use of the lights, and he thought that he was but following a precedent that had been established. Those who did not feel like paying for the use of the lights could return the globes to the office and no amount would be charged up to them.

TOWNSHIP TRUSTEES.

One Hospital Patient Discharged Yesterday.

The township trustees hospital in the Ferguson & Hill block will soon be empty, unless some new patients arrive. One patient was discharged yesterday and went to work this morning, and the other will be sent to her home in Jefferson county as soon as the weather permits her removal without danger. Word was received from Infirmary Director Roller this morning that he had arrived at the infirmary with Tommy Humphreys, and that they would endeavor to keep him there. It is to be hoped they will, although they will spoil a great deal of amusement for the youngsters of this city. It is astonishing to see the demands that some people make on the trustees, asking for not only the necessities of life but for many things that are considered luxuries by the most of people.

TWO DEATHS.

One is Caused by Consumption and the Other Diphtheria.

Jacob Vandine died at his home in West End this morning, after an illness lasting over one year, from that dread disease, consumption. Deceased was aged 21 years and was formerly employed at the glass works. The funeral will take place Friday afternoon from the residence of his father, William Vandine, West End, at 2 o'clock, and interment will be made at Spring Grove cemetery.

The three-year-old daughter of James Johnson, the expressman, died at her home on Basil avenue this morning, from an attack of diphtheria. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, Reverend Huffer, officiating. Interment will be made at Spring Grove cemetery.

NO DEAL YET.

The Proposition Made By Jutte & Co. Not Accepted.

The ferry boat deal is not closed yet. Captain Elwood Pusey, the present owner, was in consultation with Jutte & Company, of Pittsburg, the other day, endeavoring to come to a satisfactory agreement with them. The company firmly adhere to their original proposition of $9,000 for the purchase of the boat. Captain Pusey places a higher figure than that on the value of his property, and unless Jutte & Company increase their offer the indication of the consummation of a deal is very remote.

THE MUD

Is Very Annoying to Our Suburban Residents.

Residents of Avondale street are complaining bitterly about the condition of that thoroughfare, stating that the mud is now ankle deep, and that the prospects are that it will be a great deal deeper in a few days. Many of them are compelled to stay at home from the revival services on account of being unable to get down town in the evening, as it is an utter impossibility for ladies to travel the street after night, without being completely lost in the mud.

Councilman Peake is the author of the story that a farmer walked into his store in West End yesterday and asked for a hoe, stating that he wanted to plant potatoes on Lisbon road, as the mud was deep enough without any ploughing being done. Calcutta road is in a worse shape, if that be possible, than any of the other streets, and it now begins to look as though the city will have no outlet in a few weeks.

Could Not Endure the Treatment of a Brutal Husband.

A few weeks since a married couple moved from the hill district to the sacred precincts of Smoky Row. Since their advent there the head of the family has been subjected to more temptation than formerly. Lately he has come home in a drunken condition quite frequently. While in this condition it is his invariable custom to smash the furniture, and to vary the monotony of things, abuse his wife. She bore this treatment as long as possible, but the other day, being exasperated beyond all power of endurance by the brutal treatment that she received, she packed up a few belongings and quietly left the city to go to the home of her parents.

STATE CONVENTION.

Delegates and Alternates Elected at Columbus.

Special to News Review.

COLUMBUS, March 11.—At the state Republican convention today the platform was an arraignment of the Democratic party and its policy, and contained a strong declaration in favor of protection. Bushnell, Foraker, Grovesnor and Hanna were elected delegates at large and instructed to vote for William McKinley. The alternates at large are Doctor Lowes, of Dayton, Senator Fleischman, of Cincinnati, and ex-Senator Green, of Cleveland. T. Mack, of Sandusky and Albert Douglass, of Chillicothe, were nominated as electors at large, while Charles Kinney, of Scioto, was nominated for secretary of state.

COMMENCING TO REVIVE.

Shipments of Ware by Express, Freight and River.

The shipments of ware are increasing rapidly. At the freight depot this morning two extra hands were added to the regular force to handle the increased amount of traffic. A quantity of ware in baskets was shipped by express this morning, and the river packets took on a large number of crates last night, brim full of the product of this city. This perceptible increase in the pottery industry is encouraging, and it is confidently stated by many manufacturers that the spring trade will be very good.

TELEPHONES IN SALINEVILLE.

The Bell Company Will Construct a Line in That Town.

The Bell telephone company are nothing if not progressive. The latest move made by them in the establishment of an exchange office in Salineville. The town has been thoroughly canvassed and a large number of citizens expressed their intention of having the phones put in their place of business. W. A. Weaver, of this city, has been made the representative of the company in Salineville, and a force of men will commence the construction of the new line in a short time.

LISBON NEWS.

One Liverpool Saloonist Got a Salty Dose.

Special to the News Review.

LISBON, March 11.—Mrs. Sarah Hamill was arraigned in court last evening on two indictments for selling liquor to minors, and plead guilty, and was fined $35 and costs in each case. The remaining five cases against her were nolleed, on her paying the costs.

The case of S. L. Miller versus E. K. Miller was brought to court on an appeal. On the 20th of last month a judgment was given the plaintiff for $75 and costs in 'Squire Clager's court.'

The case of Jesse Myers, of Homeworth, which was commenced yesterday afternoon, is still on and the closing arguments will not be made before the close of court today.

A suit for divorce was commenced by Mary E. Swearingen, of Wellsville, against her husband, Wilson Swearingen, whom she married in 1868, and by whom she had several children, one of which is a minor and for which she asks the custody. The grounds for action are wilful absence and failure to support her.

A marriage license was issued to George C. Morgan and Mary E. Jones, of East Liverpool.

Some person dropped a lighted stump of a cigar on some straw in a cellar window of A. V. Thompson's grocery store on Washington street to-day, and at noon the straw was discovered to be on fire. A few buckets of water sufficed to extinguish the blaze. During the excitement an alarm was sent in and the fire patrol wagon responded in double quick time.

A Theatrical Aspirant

A certain colored man, employed as cook at an uptown hotel, is the subject for many jokes from his friends. The man in question has theatrical aspirations, and annoys any one that comes within a mile of him by his melodious (?) voice, as he intends to join a minstrel company, and spends most of his time practicing on songs that were new five or six years ago.

The Noonday Meeting.

The meeting conducted by Reverend Schiverea at Burford's pottery today was well attended, and was listened to with great interest by the employees. The evangelist discoursed in his usual way, and the words which he spoke evidently created a lasting impression on the minds of his hearers.

Buried Today.

The funeral of John Woolmaker took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late residence, corner of Mulberry street and Church alley, Reverend Reinartz officiating. Deceased was a member of the Grand Army, and they were in attendance, as well as a large concourse of friends.

Funeral of Mrs. Toulin.

The funeral of Mrs. Patrick Toulin took place from her late residence in the West End yesterday morning. Services were conducted in St. Aloysius church by Rev. Father Smith. A large number of friends and relatives of the deceased accompanied the body to its last resting place.

Off the Track.

Street car No. 2, in charge of James Christie, jumped the track at the Sixth street switch this morning, and caused the transfer of passengers for over an hour. The car was turned sideways across the track and required considerable effort to place it on the rails.

Instituted a Branch Lodge.

C. J. Morrish and T. P. Kilfoyle, of Cleveland, both deputies in a Catholic beneficial society, instituted a branch lodge here last night. The meeting was held in Bradshaw hall, and the new lodge was established and officers elected.

Danger of a Slide.

A big slip is threatened on the hill side near Lythe's pipe works, adjoining the street car track. A large slice of the bank has been cut away and indication of a slide that might cause much damage is apparent.

From the Second Ward.

B. H. Hodgson and Dr. W. T. Norris are announced as candidates for school board from the Second ward. Each are warmly in favor of reading the Bible in the public schools.

Is a Candidate.

Councilman E. J. Owens is a candidate for school director from the Fourth ward. He is in favor of reading the Bible in the public schools or in any other proper place.

A Test Examination.

The scholars of the Central school building were given a preliminary test examination today.

An Infant Dead.

An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McNicol died, and was buried yesterday.

GOD AND THE RIGHT

Music One of the Grandly Inspiring Features.

ANOTHER IMMENSE AUDIENCE

Main Body and Galleries of the Rink Filled to Their Utmost Capacity—The Evangelist at His Best in Presenting the Gospel of Truth—Impressive After Services—Toronto Contingent Coming.

The choir opened with a number of appropriate selections of song, with Mrs. Ida Watkins at the piano and Mrs. Ted Brookes presiding at the organ. Weeden rendered as a solo, "All the Way to Calvary," Rev. Huffer, of the Christian church, reading the scripture lesson, and Brother Hodgson leading in prayer.

Schiverea arrived at a few minutes before eight o'clock, and would not be satisfied with the singing until he had the entire assembly joining in on the chorus of one of his favorites, "let us hear you tell it over once again," and then the evangelist addressed a throne of grace with fervid, earnest eloquence.

The pastor of the A. M. E. church, of East Liverpool, Rev. B. M. Carson, made a strong, eloquent, tender and touching appeal that God would, for Christ's sake, save the men and women of East Liverpool and vicinity.

Announcement was then made that a meeting would be held at Burford's pottery at 12:30 today, with an address by the evangelist and singing by Weeden. An earnest invitation was also extended to employees of the Dresden pottery to attend at Burford's.

Weeden sang a plaintive, pathetic selection, listened to with rapt attention by the audience, evidently accomplishing good, lasting good, fastening the thoughts of men and women on the memory of loved ones gone to God. Surely, as Schiverea said, at the commencement of the song, God speaks in song. Young Weeden should use his power for the Master who has given him such a blessing. Following is a synopsis of the evangelist's address:

"My subject can be found in Hebrews, second chapter and third verse: 'How shall ye escape if ye neglect so great salvation?' This demands our immediate, earnest attention. What makes this sacrifice so great, men? On account of the awful sacrifice—the last drop of blood of the Lord Jesus Christ, the son of God. Nothing else, in heaven or upon earth, could answer the demand. The law states that there is no remission of sins, save through the shedding of blood. Christ died upon the cursed tree, and the plan of redemption was completed. There was silence in heaven for one half hour! Why? What caused this silence? Let me tell you. Because God saw the awful condition of the human family under the curse of a broken law. Man's extremity is God's opportunity. Among the hosts of men on earth, God could find no deliverer. Then the heavens were scanned, and no angel or archangel was found worthy for God's great plan. God then caused silence in heaven. He was going to do an awful, a terrible thing; to take his son off the throne, place him on earth, clothed in earthly garments, in order to redeem fallen man from the curse. Think of it, men. Jesus, the son of the living God, clothed in our poor humanity and doomed to die upon the cursed tree, for our redemption.

"A wealthy man came to me, while riding on the Grand Trunk railroad, and said: 'Mr. Schiverea, I would gladly write out a check for the sum of $10,000, if I could but have the same salvation as that of my dear old father and mother. I have just paid them a visit, and the older they grow, the happier they become.' I said to him: 'You can't purchase the salvation given your parents, sir. No, not for a billion dollars. It costs more than that; immeasurably more; it cost the blood of the son of God. And yet you can have this glorious salvation, this salvation of your dear father and mother, without money and without price.' What do you think he said? 'That's just what I hate to do, Schiverea. I hate to humiliate myself. My heart don't want to do it. I hate to be under such obligations to God.' Oh, men, such action is awful. I told him he could not have God's pardon on any other terms than the merciful plan of salvation, through the blessed Jesus.

"An infidel said to me: 'Will your God of infinite love and mercy permit a soul to go down into hell?' I made reply: 'He certainly will. He who spared not his own son, will certainly not spare the rebellious soul which rejects the great atonement.'

"The moment you forsake your sins and accept Christ, your sins fly

McKINLEY THE SLOGAN.

The Major's Name Sets the Convention Wild.

FORAKER GAVE THE KEYNOTE.

In a Rousing Speech He Pledges Ohio's support to the Ex-Governor For the Presidential Nomination—The Committee Named—Reconvened Today.

COLUMBUS, March 11.—The Republican state convention reconvened at 10 o'clock this morning, with Senator-elect Foraker in the chair.

When the convention opened late yesterday afternoon, Chairman McKelvey said the Ohio Republicans last year promised to make Bushnell, governor; Foraker, senator, and support McKinley for president, and they were here to carry out the third part of the agreement.

Among the Ohio congressmen and other prominent Republicans on the stage last night, Governor Bushnell occupied one of the boxes.

Mr. Foraker, in his speech, said:

"I sincerely thank the state central committee for the honor of temporarily presiding over this convention, and I most heartily thank the gentlemen of the convention, for your kind and enthusiastic greeting. Ordinarily, as I understand it, it is thought to be the chief duty of office of the temporary chairman of a convention like this to discuss current political questions and define party positions. Ordinarily I should make that kind of an address on such an occasion as this. It is possible that you are expecting some such remarks as these. If you will be disappointed, for in my judgment that kind of an address is not necessary under the circumstances attending us here today. It is not necessary because everybody knows that no matter what questions may be discussed in the coming campaign, the one great, towering, supreme issue in the contest of '06, will be whether for the next four years this country shall be ruled by Democracy or by Republicanism. [Applause.] And everybody knows in advance what the verdict will be. [Applause.] For even our Democratic friends understand and can see that the sweeping victories of last year are to be followed by still greater and grander triumphs this year. [Applause.] The Republican party was never so strong, never so powerful, never so popular, never so entrenched in the hearts and affections of the American people as it is today, and so far, at least, as Ohio is concerned, never so united and harmonious as at this very hour. [Great applause.] We have no differences of opinion with respect to national questions or policies, and we have no factional dissensions to weaken our strength or divert our attention from the common enemy. [Applause.]

Therefore, it is that while we are here for the purpose of nominating a ticket and declaring a new theory in the United States, we come also to the discharge of a higher and more commanding duty. It has already been indicated by our chairman. The Zanesville convention declared that the Republicans of Ohio would this year unitedly and enthusiastically support the candidacy of Governor McKinley. [Applause.] The time has come to redeem that pledge, and we are here to do it. In every district and county convention so far held this year in this state, we have already been endorsed. We assemble now as the representatives of the Republicans of the whole state for the purpose of doing the same thing. [Applause.] We owe it to ourselves as well as to the country to do it with unanimity, to do it in such a manner, in short, as will signify to the whole nation that he has now, and will have at the St. Louis convention, the united, hearty, cordial, enthusiastic approval of Ohio. [Great applause.]

It is due, however, to the Republicans of Ohio and especially to Governor McKinley himself that it should be said here and now, that our preference for him is not conceived in any spirit of antagonism or hostility to any other man whose name is mentioned in connection with that high honor. [Applause.] The Republicans of Ohio do not lack appreciation for Thomas B. Reed, or Levi P. Morton, or William B. Allison, or Matthew Stanley Quay, or any of the great leaders who have been mentioned in connection with that honor. On the contrary we admire and love them all, and if the St. Louis convention should disappoint us and give its honor to one of these here and now pledge to him to advance the electoral vote of Ohio by the largest majority ever given in the history of the state. It is not that we "love Caesar less but Rome more." [Great applause.]

William McKinley is our own. He lives here in Ohio and always has lived in our midst. [Applause.] He is our friend, our neighbor, our fellow citizen, our fellow Republican. Shoulder to shoulder with him we have fought the battles of Republicanism in this state for a generation. We know him and he knows us. We know his life, his character, his public services and his fitness for the place for which he has been named.

He has been our soldier comrade, our representative in congress, our governor. By all these tokens, we here today present him to the Republicans of the other states of the Union as our choice and ask them to make him theirs. [Great applause.] In this connection it should be remembered that he is identified with all that is good and great and grand and glorious in the history of Republicanism. [Applause.] When but a mere boy, answering his country's call, he shouldered his musket and marched away after the flag to the battle of the Union to make a record for gallantry and heroism at the front on the battlefields of the republic. [Tremendous applause.]

Returning and entering Congress he was soon there distinguished for his eloquence of speech, his fidelity to duty, his ever patriotic and conscientious regard for the rights of the people. [Great applause.] At the head of the ways and means committee he it fell to his lot to frame and secure the enactment of the McKinley law.

[Applause.] That measure has made his name familiar in all the world and has made him exceedingly unpopular in almost all the world outside of the United States. [Great applause.] But it has correspondingly endeared him to his countrymen. Time has vindicated his labor. The last three years have been years of trial. They have been years of Democratic rule; they have been years of education for the American people in the school of practical experience. As a result the American people know a great deal more about the tariff than they did in 1892. [Applause.] Every business man here will tell you that no matter what kind of business he may be engaged in the tariff has a close, direct relation to him and the wage-worker has learned that his prosperity depends on the maintenance of a protective tariff policy. As a result in every section, in every state, in every county, in every municipality, in every mill, and mine, and furnace, and forge and workshop, everywhere throughout all this broad land, where capital is invested or labor is employed, William McKinley is the ideal American statesman, the typical American leader and the veritable American idol. [Great applause and cheers.] No man ever in public life in this country enjoyed such universal popularity as he. [Applause.] No man in this country in public life ever commanded, as he now commands, the affections of the great mass of the voters of this country. Blameless in private life, as he has been useful and illustrious in public life, his name in our judgment will inspire more confidence, excite more enthusiasm and give greater guaranty of success than any other name that can be inscribed on the Republican banner. [Great applause.] As the candidate of the Republican party, he will command the support of all classes and shades of Republicans, and at the same time command also the help of tens of thousands of patriotic Democrats in every state of the Union. [Great applause.] All who believe in Americanism, all who believe in Americanism, all who believe in promoting and advancing the interests of America at home and abroad will rally to his support and help him to plant our banner in triumph on the citadels of the nation. [Cheers.]

His administration will be a fit rounding out of the glorious achievements of the nineteenth century and constitute a bright and inspiring chapter with which to compare the record of the second era of Republican rule. [Applause.] Under his administration there will be no more deficits, no more bond issues in times of peace, no more bond syndicates, no more trouble about the national credit or the national currency, no more "haggling" about pensions for the men who saved the Union (cheers and applause), and no hesitation, whatever, such as we now see in the White House in demanding and securing for the United States her rightful place and consideration among the nations of the earth. Called to that office, he will fill it without obligation to any influence or power except that which emanates from the people whom he has called to serve, and in all that he does he will be governed by that belief upon which has been founded and run his whole career that this government is of the people, by the people and for the people. [Applause.]

Other states are declaring for him. Ohio cannot lead the column; it is already on the march. [Cheers.] All we can do is to join the procession. [Cheers.] We will not hesitate longer to take action in that respect.

Grosvenor, Judge A. C. Thompson and Hon. C. L. Kurtz were appointed as the committee that sent the following telegram to the president of the Republican convention at Wichita, Kan.:

The Republicans of Ohio, in their annual convention assembled, send greeting to the gallant Republicans of Kansas and assure them of the distinguished appreciation of the Ohio Republicans of the earnest support given to Ohio's great leader by the time tried Republicans of Kansas. Ohio will join Kansas at St. Louis and in November next will celebrate the victory for McKinley, protection and prosperity. The following state committee was selected:

First district, Vivian J. Gagin, Hamilton; Second, Peter Durr, Hamilton; Third, John E. Feight, Montgomery; Fourth, W. L. Parmenter, Allen; Fifth, C. H. Marshall, Williams; Sixth, Dr. A. E. Archart, Brown; Seventh, C. B. Schuck, Pickaway; Eighth, H. P. Crouse, Washington; Ninth, Leonard H. Harris, Lucas; Tenth, C. E. Hard, Scioto; Eleventh, W. W. Merriek, Meigs; Twelfth, T. J. Pickering, Fairfield; Thirteenth, Thomas D. Dewey, Sandusky; Fourteenth, W. W. Silles, Richland; Fifteenth, L. R. Rose, Washington; Sixteenth, W. McD. Miller, Jefferson; Seventeenth, C. B. McCoy, Coshocton; Eighteenth, W. C. Erick, Stark; Nineteenth, B. F. Perry, Jr., Ashland; Twentieth, James Caldwell, Cuyahoga; Twenty-first, Hugh J. Buckley, Cuyahoga.

The usual committees for the convention were appointed, the one on resolutions being as follows:

First district, Howard Ferris, Hamilton; Second, Max Berghelm, Hamilton; Third, J. T. Sutphen, Butler; Fourth, John T. Dellinger, Auglaize; Fifth, N. H. Phillips, Paulding; Sixth, Hon. John Little, Groves; Seventh, G. N. Wilson, Madison; Eighth, Hon. S. T. Hugh, Hardin; Ninth, N. H. A. Reed, Lucas; Tenth, Hon. L. J. Fenton, Adams; Eleventh, Byron Lutz, Ross; Twelfth, George K. Smith, Franklin; Thirteenth, Cyrus Sears, Sandusky; Fourteenth, Hon. J. T. Haskell, Lorain; Fifteenth, H. C. Van Voorhis, Muskingum; Sixteenth, Hon. J. J. Gill, Jefferson; Seventeenth, M. L. Myer, Wayne; Eighteenth, Hon. J. Taylor, Coshocton; Nineteenth, O. P. Sparr, Portage; Twentieth, J. K. Durbin, Medina; Twenty-first, Henry Vail, Cuyahoga.

The following have been decided on for alternates-at-large: Dr. J. E. Lowe, Senator John P. Green, colored, Senator Charles Fleischman, Congressman John N. Taylor. Electors-at-large: E. F. Mack and Albert Douglas.

A slate was also agreed upon for the state ticket, including General A. T. Wykoff for secretary of state against Doty and Kinney, who were making a close race. Williams for supreme judge, Blackburn for food commissioner and Stillwell for member of the board of public works are also slated.

The planks in the platform on the tariff and finance were adopted as written by McKinley and express his views on protection and bimetalism. The currency resolution is the same as in the national platform of 1892. The resolution endorsing McKinley for president is as strong as it could be made.

The embarrassment on certain temperance state legislation was covered in a general endorsement of the present legislature, which defeated radical measures and increased the liquor tax. There is nothing specially new in the declaration, but the preamble is a caustic indictment of President Cleveland's administration.

In the contest for chairman of the state committee, H. P. Crouse of Findlay, an appointee of McKinley, was elected by a vote of 12 to 6.

Kurtz is elected for national committeeman. Besides the telegram pledging the support of Kansas, one has come from the McKinley Business Men's club of Chicago, saying that 90 per cent of Illinois Republicans are for McKinley and the state delegation will be nearly solid for him.

GEN. BOOTH'S SORROW.

His Heart Torn by Ballington Booth's Action.

STILL HOPES TO RECLAIM HIM.

Has Sent a Cablegram Asking His Son to Come to London That He May Pray With Him—Don't Fear Disruption of the Salvation Army.

LONDON, March 11.—General Booth, of the Salvation Army, has cabled a manifesto to the headquarters of the Salvation Army in New York.

Bramwell Booth also has a manifesto in the War Cry, in which he says that the "Fidelity of the American troops is unshaken," and warns the army against the "Misrepresentations of the anti-

English-American press." He also says that the general's heart is "Torn and sorely wounded, but he is determined to carry on the government without respect to persons."

A reporter asked General Booth for an expression of his opinion on the trouble in the Salvation Army in the United States.

The general replied: "Ballington's action is inexplicable and is a heart-breaking blow to me. I still hope that the differences may be smoothed over, and I have cabled to Ballington the assurance that it was still not too late for forgiveness and begging him to come to England that I might pray with him. He has, however, not answered."

General Booth was asked what effect he thought Ballington Booth's new movement would have on the Salvation Army. He replied: "I do not think the movement will affect the army, which I hope will unitedly pursue its work on the original lines."

AN EXCITING CONVENTION.

Two Organizations at One Meeting in Georgia Ended in a Row.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., March 11.—The Republicans of the Ninth congressional district have had an exciting time here. The two factions engaged in the fight, the whites on one side and the negroes with a sprinkling of whites on the other.

The convention ran with two chairmen, two secretaries and two committees on credentials. Two speakers were frequently on the floor at the same time and everything was in a state of confusion.

The convention finally broke up without expressing any preference for presidential candidates.

$200,000 Fire in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, March 11.—Fire in the sub-cellars of the five-story warehouse and dillery of Milhalovich, Fletcher & Co., at 514 to 518 East Pearl street, destroyed the entire front part of the structure with its contents, but the fire was limited to that building except the Pearl Street Methodist church adjoining, which was damaged considerably. Total loss $200,000.

Mere Formal Vote For Senator.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 11.—The ballot for United States senator was a mere formality, on account of Weissinger's defeat. Representative Adams voted for Boyle; Representative Baird for Blackburn and Populist Poor for Pettit, while the rest of the members refrained from voting. No quorum having voted, there was no election.

Iowa Republican Convention.

DES MOINES, March 11.—The city is filling up with delegates. The Republican state convention will meet today to present William B. Allison to the country for president. The four delegates-at-large will be Senator J. H. Gear, J. S. Clarkson, W. P. Hepburn and D. B. Henderson.

An Abandoned Woman Strangled.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11.—Another woman of the town has been strangled under circumstances identical with the two other murders that have taken place recently in the same locality.

State of the Gold Reserve.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The treasury has lost $164,600 in gold coin and $27,400 in bars, which leaves the true amount of the gold reserve, $126,365,010.

The Weather.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Trades council meets in special session tonight.

The man that had his leg broken while working on the bridge is improving rapidly.

Nancy Hanks was called to the turn table at Wellsville last night to repair a break in the trolley wire at that place.

Superintendent Morley is slowly improving and unless some unforeseen complications arise he will be able to be out in a few weeks.

Charles Seaton, of Pittsburg, formerly of this place, is in the city today on matters pertaining to recent litigation at this place.

The river has again commenced to fall. The Bedford passed up last night and the Ruth and Hudson went down. Traffic is increasing.

James Pickering, of Second street, will give a stag party to a number of friends tonight. The occasion is his sixteenth anniversary of her birthday.

A large number of friends called at the residence of Will Chamberlain, of Calcutta road, last night and spent a pleasant evening in dancing and merry making.

The big engine recently put in at the electric light plant is not in perfect working order, and an engineer from the firm that built it is here trying to remedy the difficulty.

Thomas Corcoran returned home from Pittsburg yesterday afternoon after spending two weeks at that place taking treatment for his health. He is much improved by his visit.

Charles Brown, checking clerk of the shipping department of the freight depot, is off duty with an attack of rheumatism. Freight Agent Thomas is acting as clerk temporarily now.

The Alvin Social club, of Market street, will hold a dance in the city hall at Wellsville tomorrow night. Two special street cars have been provided for Liverpool people to return home.

Notwithstanding that the time for nomination is so close at hand, the political pot is still simmering. It is expected that by the latter part of next week the excitement will have commenced.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Michael McKeever, a popular young presser of the Dresden pottery, to Miss Lizzie O'Donnell, of the West End. The event comes off on Easter Monday.

Staff Captain Parker, of Cleveland, will lead a special meeting in the Salvation Army hall tomorrow night at 8 p.m. Local officers will be commissioned, and the meeting will be one of great interest to all who attend.

Deputy Marshall Wyman is in receipt of a postal card from L. C. Miles, of Akron, stating that a large amount of jewelry was stolen from his residence on Sunday night last, and asking him to be on the lookout for the thieves.

Charles Green, formerly of this place but now of Lisbon, was in the city yesterday. He says that his mother, who was lying so dangerously ill with pneumonia at the residence of her father in Sallenville, is considerably improved and will recover.

The young people's society, of the Second U. P. church held a very delightful musicale and literary entertainment at their church in East End last night. A very excellent program was rendered, and was highly appreciated by the large audience present.

The McKinley club will meet tomorrow night and receive the report of the committee that was appointed to investigate the charges made against McLaughlin. It is not known whether the latter person will be at the meeting or not to vindicate himself.

Evangelist Schiverea will address the employees of the Vodyre and the East Liverpool potteries tomorrow at the noon hour, in the wareroom of the latter pottery. The meeting today at Burford's was largely attended and much interest was manifested in the services.

The question is asked by many, "what has become of the proposed new railroad?" Matters pertaining to this subject have been apparently very quiet for some length of time. All the information that can be gotten from those interested in the project is the remark that everything is progressing nicely.

The ill-fated derrick of the bridge company met with another accident this morning. The big iron shovel swung against one of the cables holding the derrick in place and caused it to part in two. No serious damage was caused. Engineer Laube arrived this morning, and is reviewing the progress of the work done.

The city candidates have started to work again, as they all expect to cover the city once more before the primary election, which is to be held on Saturday week. This is probably the first time in the history of politics in this city that candidates have put out as many cards as they have this year, and covered as much ground, and the end is not yet.

GOD AND THE RIGHT.

away from you, as far as the east is from the west. Will God forget your sins? Yes. Then what right have you to remember our sins against us. God puts them in the bottom of the sea; not on the top of the sea where they would float and stare us in the face; where the devil could gather them up and hurl them in our faces. They are put in the bottom of the sea, where the miserable devil will be drowned if he goes after them. I wish to God the miserable creature was drowned. Then, you say, 'you would be out of a job.' Drown him, drown him. I'll gladly lose my job. If the devil was drowned there'd be no more cursed saloons, no more libertines, no more ruined girls, no broken hearts of fathers and mothers.

"I look in the faces of the Grand Army men who sit all around and about me; in their scarred features and at their white hair; grand men, God bless them. I catch the sight of the badge in their button holes. They served this glorious nation; they redeemed the land, under the providence of God, from the curse and blight of human slavery. God bless them. And yet, men, there are thousands upon thousands of white slaves all over this grand land; thousands of men and women under the ban and curse of a worse slavery than ever existed in the southland—the awful slavery of sin; yes, a slavery worse than that inflicted upon the poor negro by the worst master that ever held slaves in the south. And the awful feature is that you are willing slaves—slaves to unholy passions, to rum drinking, to the saloon keeper, to dishonesty, to impurity, to licentiousness. Free yourselves, men, before it is eternally too late. God made me to be free. I'd die behind prison bars. God, for Jesus' sake, gave me my freedom, and, bless his holy name, I'll remain free for ever.

"Today, passing down your streets, I heard glorious news. Blackburn, the noted gambler, who accepted his freedom from sin during the meetings at Toronto, was the first person to go forward and join the Presbyterian church on Sunday last. God bless and keep him.

"Oh, the terrible sin of neglect. 'How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?' You do not need to be a drunkard or vile and sinful, in order to reach perdition, to lose your soul. You simply need to neglect this great salvation; neglect it and you are lost. No sane man or woman will rise in their seats in this rink and say that they want to die in their sins; and yet when asked to accept the mercy of the loving Savior of the world, they make reply: 'Not now; not ready; some other time.' God pity you. Those reasons are the devil's best tools, and have sent thousands of precious souls to hell. You have no other time; the future is not yours, never has been, never will be; you will be saved in the 'now' or never. God have mercy on you. 'How shall you escape if you neglect so great salvation?'

"A man left one of our meetings and became a raving maniac as he reached the hallway, and it took a dozen men to hold him as he raved and fought and cried out. The rumor was spread about the town that religious enthusiasm had caused him to become unbalanced. I went to see the physician in charge and he said to me: 'No, Schivera, that is not true. The unfortunate man possessed an almost ungovernable temper, and a few years ago he murdered a man; your address went home to his conscience; he tried to evade it and left the meeting; he neglected salvation, and in the hallway, his remorse must have brought up his victim before him and he went crazy.' Poor fellow. I was informed that he would tramp up and down his cell, crying out: 'Will I be saved, will I be saved?'

"A lady of my acquaintance was afflicted with cancer. She was urged by my wife to go to a prominent eastern specialist. She procrastinated, saying she would see to it again, that there was nothing serious. Finally she became worse and went east. To her dismay her physician told her it was too late. She offered him money to save her. 'Too late,' was his reply; 'nothing can save you; you neglected it too long.' My God, save these men and women of East Liverpool from neglecting the great salvation.

"Moody met a man who put off his soul's salvation to a more convenient time. Finally the unfortunate man's wife came to Moody to go see her husband. At that dying sinner's bedside the evangelist prayed and pleaded—but it was too late. He said to Moody: 'Go away, Moody, go away; it's too late; the loving God has deserted me, for I refused his offers of mercy and salvation; it's too late.' And Moody's heart almost broke as he sank on his knees by that dying man and heard him whisper, almost in the last agony: 'Oh God! oh God! the harvest is passed; the summer is ended and I am not saved.'

"You can't escape the judgment day. On that day you will look at the clock face and say to the angel in charge: 'How long am I to stay here; how long am I to be doomed?' And the answer will come: 'Forever, forever, forever.' You cry out in anguish: 'Is there no escape? When will our punishment end?' Oh, the horror of the answer, men; the horror of the reality, as the angel replies: 'Never, no, never! But, thank God for his wonderful, loving kindness, you can escape now, through the blood of Jesus. Men, don't have the awful verdict against you of, 'Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels.' Not prepared for you, men; not prepared for you; you must force yourselves into hell—hell prepared for the devil and his angels.

"Oh, men and women of East Liverpool, come to Jesus tonight; come and escape; come and meet the Savior, who will welcome you, forgive you and save your immortal soul. Now is the day of salvation. God have mercy on you, is my prayer."

Weeden then rendered as a solo, "Looking this way," the congregation bowing heads in silent prayer, by request of Schivera. The after meeting was a wonderful one, and incidents connected therewith show that great good is being accomplished in East Liverpool. By request we publish the song sang last night by Mr. Weeden, as follows:

Over the river faces I see,
Fair as the morning, looking for me,
Free from their sorrow, grief and despair,
Waiting and watching patiently there.

CHORUS.
Looking this way, yes, looking this way:
Loved ones are waiting, looking this way.
Fair as the morning, bright as the day,
Dear ones in glory looking this way.

Father and mother, safe in the vale,
Watch for the boatman, wait for the sail,
Bearing the loved ones over the tide
Into the harbor, near to their side.

Brother and sister, gone to that clime,
Wait for the others, coming sometime;
Safe with the angels, whiter than snow,
Watching for dear ones waiting below.

Sweet little darling, light of the home,
Looking for someone, beckoning come;
Bright as a sunbeam, pure as the dew,
Anxiously looking, mother, for you.

Jesus, the Savior, bright morning star,
Looking for lost ones straying afar;
Hear the glad message, why will you roam?
Jesus is calling, "Sinner, come home."

Toronto is making arrangements to secure a special train and send up a strong contingent to hear the evangelist. They have asked that space be held for them in the rink. The meeting at Burford's pottery today was a grandly interesting one. Good seed was sown. What will the harvest be?

Temptation of Money.
The Wilson Theatre company gave an excellent rendition of "Temptation of Money," at the Grand last night, to a good-sized audience. Tonight they will produce Bartley Campbell's famous melo-drama, "The White Slave." This is the company's strongest play, and will be produced in a metropolitan manner. Special scenery is carried for this production, and many new and pleasing specialties will be introduced.

"Perhaps you would not think so, out a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Cyrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold. There are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of every day life. The most sensible advice is, when you have one, get rid of it as soon as possible. By all means do not neglect it." Doctor Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs, aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

OHIO VALLEY GAS CONSUMERS.
Consumers on the Ohio Valley Gas company lines are hereby notified that hereafter all bills must be paid on or before the 10th of each month, in advance. All consumers being in arrears at this time must settle on or before March 20 or supply will be discontinued.

I. N. Weir, the gentlemanly agent for Cram's Universal atlas, has taken his departure from East Liverpool, leaving many warm friends behind him. Mr. Harvey Davidson has been left in charge here as local agent, and will fill all orders.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well known druggist of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Party Postponed.
The ladies of the Eastern Star intended to hold a leap year party tonight, but postponed the event indefinitely owing to the meetings in the rink.

THE MOON BOTHERED JULIET.

A Small Japanese Boy Held It and Would Not Go Away.

"While in Japan we went to Tokyo to play 'Romeo and Juliet,'" said Mrs. Potter recently. "We played from 7 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock in the evening, as the manager demanded that would last all day, and when I told him that we had none of sufficient elasticity he replied that when it was all ended, we would start all over again. Well, we did. The manager was impressed with the necessity of having a moon, and that Juliet, as near as possible, should always be kept in the moonlight.

"Well, the balcony scene arrived, and there was no moon, but in the midst of Romeo's most passionate wooing, which, so far as the light on the stage was concerned, might have taken place at midday, the moon suddenly appeared. It was in the form of a lantern fixed on a bamboo pole and was swayed before my face by a little Jap who stood beneath the balcony in full view of the audience. The audience didn't seem to mind it in the least, but it made me very nervous, and every time Romeo would pour forth his soul I would ejaculate, 'Take away that moon.' But the boy was mindful of his instructions, that Juliet was always to be in the moonlight, and during the rest of the performance every time I came on the stage I was pursued by that awful moon. Nothing could induce the boy to desist, and so the moon held full sway."—Rochester Union and Advertiser.

TERRORIZED BY DEER.

A MOB OF THEM CAPTURE A HOUSE AND SMASH THINGS.

A Sportsman's Account of the Annoyance Caused by Canadian Game Laws—If You Want Peace While Hunting in Canada Provide a Stuffed Gray Wolf.

"But I was going to tell you about the Canadian game laws being responsible for a nuisance," said the old sportsman. "The deer have the laws down fine, and though you might roam for days without seeing a sign of one of them in the shooting season they are as numerous and intrusive as mosquitoes at other times. The deer, you know, is a species of goat and will develop all a goat's toughness if he gets the idea that you aren't touch him. No small boy could be more insolent than the deer under those circumstances.

"After we finished our dinner the first evening at the cabin on Capen island last August we sat reading and smoking. A deer put his head in the door and ba-a-a-ed at us and winked his eyes and shook his tail in an eager way, as if he was asking for something. 'What does he want?' we asked the guide.

"'Oh, anything—old clothes or boots, a rubber shoe, tomato cans, anything like that for a change of diet.'

"We gave him a pair of stockings and a chromo of Mary Anderson. He ate them and bounded away looking as pleased as if his uncle had left him a legacy. That made us laugh, and we hoped he would come back and let us have some more fun with him.

"He did come back before daylight next morning and brought six other deer with him. They ate up two white shirts and some underclothes that were hanging on the line behind the house and roused us up by knocking on the door with their horns. When the guide opened the door, the leading buck butted him into a corner. The other deer crowded in, and they took possession of the place. They upset the lamp, and as many as could get at it drank the kerosene. It made them cough, but didn't abate their curiosity in the least. They all put their noses in the stove and sniffed the ashes. That set them sneezing. The big buck, by turning his horns sideways, got his head into the biscuit barrel. He ate till he was rounded out like a football and then tried to go out to get a drink. But he had forgotten the combination, and the barrel staid right where it was. He gave a loud 'ba-a-a!' and that frightened him worse than anything, for his voice was baritone, and the barrel made it sound like double bass. Then he started in to back out slowly, shaking his head and keeping it low.

"I and Capen had kept quiet in our bunks. We knew the Canadian law, and we didn't want any trouble with the deer. But they had no idea of leaving us in peace. Two of them caught hold of the blanket that was covering Capen and began to devour it.

"'Leggo!' he shouted. But it was no use. They knew the ropes and were not going to be bluffed.

"'Jumping mackerel!' shouted Capen, getting mad. 'I won't stand this any longer. Law or no law, these hoodlums have got to get out of my house.'

"He started to descend from his berth when a wicked looking doe made a jump from the other end of the room and helped him back again. I don't know what would have become of us if it had not been for the buck with the barrel. In backing out he tripped over a chair and fell down. The barrel jarred him, and he became panic stricken. He gave a terrific 'ba-a-a!' and hoisting the barrel up in the air began to charge about blindly. He fell down, turned somersaults, butted the other deer and tried to knock out the end of the cabin. The others were so surprised and frightened at his strange appearance and antics that they stood still and stared open mouthed till two or three of them were knocked galley west. These got up and away, full lickity smash, and the others woke up and slid the whole earth from under themselves at one jump.

"The three of us got up and jumped on the buck. We carried him outside and then let him go, and the way he smashed around through the landscape was a caution. We could trail him by the biscuits. He broke the bottom out of the barrel after awhile, but I guess he's wearing the rest of it yet.

"Of course we were in a great state of alarm for fear the deer would come back, but the guide said:

"'That's all right. I'll fix those fellows.'

"'Luckily we had a fine gray wolf skin. This the guide stuffed and planted in a lifelike attitude on the shore where the deer came from the mainland. That afternoon the deer that turned our cabin inside out returned with 25 others. They were all on the broad smile, thinking of the picnic they were going to have till they caught sight of the stuffed wolf. That stopped them as dead as though they had run against a brick wall. They wheeled quick as a flash, and the way they put was a caution.

"After that we had no more trouble, and my advice to men who are going for sport into the wilds of Canada is that they take a stuffed gray wolf if they want to have peace and comfort."

The Professional Woman.

Margaret Sangster, writing of women as office workers, says, "The daily wear and tear of nerves, temper and clothing of obligatory office attendance cannot be adequately stated or paid for in dollars and cents, and therefore a woman must love her profession over and above financial gains and pursue it for its own sake if she would find in it the rewards of a chosen career."

Consider how much more you often suffer from your anger and grief than from those very things for which you are angry and grieved.—Marcus Antoninus.
